

WE NOMINATE

John Archibald Wheeler, a world leader in science for the past quarter-century, who this month is figuring conspicuously in the nation's scientific news as a newly elected officer of major learned societies. At the dawn of the New Year in Montreal this 53-year old Princetonian was elevated to the 13-member Board of Directors of the tremendous American Association for the Advancement of Science (with a membership now topping the 90,000-mark), while late this month in New York City he will assume still added responsibilities as vice-president of the American Physical Society.

It has been said that Wheeler, Florida-born and a full-time resident of this community since he was called to Princeton University's Department of Physics in 1938, is concerned with learning "how the world is put together." Down through the years, beginning with his graduate studies at Johns Hopkins where he received his doctoral degree at the age of 21, he has made major contributions in an astounding variety of fields, including nuclear fission, cosmic ray physics, structure and transformations of atomic nuclei and elementary particles, and general relativity.

Wheeler, one of the first American scientists to concentrate on nuclear fission, was co-author in 1939 with Niels Bohr, the Danish physicist, of the paper on fission which made it possible to predict the reactivity of plutonium before that new element had been synthesized. Throughout World War II, on leave from Princeton, he was continuously associated with the top-priority Atomic Bomb Project, first here in Palmer Physical Laboratory and the "Metallurgical" Laboratory of the University of Chicago, and, subsequently, in the DuPont Design Center in Wilmington and the Hanford plutonium plant in Richland, Wash.

In the spring of 1955, nearly three years after the United States set off its first hydrogen explosion in the Pacific, it was officially revealed that a Wheeler-directed Princeton research team had contributed a great deal of the technical data and "much of the drive and optimism" which led to the first successful thermonuclear reaction. Edward Teller, so-called "father of the H-Bomb," recalled that the calculations of Wheeler's group, the last occupants of Princeton's then newly-established James Forrestal Research Center, "decided the issue" of whether the hydrogen bomb was feasible.

Wheeler's efforts to unify in one concept the whirling world of the atom and the vast reaches of star-filled space led to his public announcement a decade ago of the mathematical discovery of a new body, the Geon, tying together the effects of gravitation and electromagnetism. His striking, widely-acclaimed concept of the Geon was based on the many parts of physics now well understood, such as the motions of planets, electromagnetic theory and Einstein's "battle-tested theory of relativity." And, even while forging his remarkable career as a research scientist, Wheeler continued to accentuate the importance of his role as a teacher of undergraduates.

For ever seeking to broaden and deepen man's understanding of the world in which he lives; for distinguished achievements in the entwined areas of higher education and national service; for his continuing advocacy of long-range programs beamed at preventing the "fragmentation of the scientific effort"; he is our nominee as

WE GOVERN. WE SERVE
In Borough, Township, Two gavel tapped in order at noon on New Year's Day and the traditional and ceremonious first meetings of the year came to order for Borough Council in Borough Hall and Township Committee in the library of Community Park School.

There were familiar faces and new ones. The same Committee meets in the Township, but its members have chosen a new mayor — Carl C. Schafer Jr. — to replace William L. Wilson. Mr. Wilson, re-elected in November to his second term, will now be Committeeman Wilson, and he was sworn in as Committeeman on New Year's Day.

Enoch Durbin replaces Joseph Wood on Borough Council.

Alfred Sorenson was elected president of Council.

Assignments for Councilmen and Committeemen were parceled out on New Year's Day, and basically they remain the same in both communities. Committee held its first regular meeting on Monday night and Council will meet next Tuesday, and the business of governing continues undisturbed into the new year.

Who Does What? But what's it like to have the underpaid job of running your community? What are the men like and how do their personalities affect the machinery?

Six Councilmen and Mayor Henry S. Patterson sit behind the big desk in the Council chamber. Four of the six are Republicans and two are Democrats, but Mayor Patterson, himself a Republican, does not like the idea of partisan politics at the municipal level — he would like to see a "Fusion" party without national labels — and on New Year's Day, half seriously and half in humor, he insisted that the two Democrats, Joseph Strayer and Enoch Durbin, sit apart from each other around the Council semi-circle.

Mayor Patterson, who has a lively Celtic tongue, runs a lively Council meeting. He says himself that he likes a good argument and that he likes to talk, and he is apt to refute, point by point, the arguments of some citizen who rises to speak from the floor, or of a Councilman, for that matter. The other talker on Borough Council is William H. Walker, the pipe-smoking architect who serves the Borough as police commissioner. Mr. Walker has a strong concern about zoning variances, and he is quite apt to cast a "no" vote when a non-conforming variance comes before Council.

"Non-conforming" means something that doesn't really belong where it is, but was there before the zoning ordinance was passed, like an old garage in a residential district. Mr. Walker thinks these anomalies should die on the vine, and he doesn't like the idea of encouraging them to remain by allowing variances for expansion, and the like.

Yes, But Why? Ellwood W. Godfrey is a physician, a radiologist to be specific, and he is the Councilman who asks questions. Sometimes they seem like obvious questions, but after a while the observer realizes that Dr. Godfrey has asked them, not from naivete, but to make sure that everyone, absolutely everyone, understands.

Alan W. Carriek, re-elected this fall, is a quiet man with a legal mind. Not a debater like Mayor Patterson, he nevertheless has strong convictions, especially on matters of urban planning, and he expresses these convictions firmly. He is, as we have said, quiet, but he is not so quiet as Alfred E. Sorenson, senior Councilman of them all, and president for 1965.

Elected on the Democratic ticket a year ago, Joseph R. Strayer has never, to anyone's knowledge, acted on a purely partisan basis. Whenever he casts a "no" vote, it is from personal conviction, not party conviction. A listener, he will listen to Mayor Patterson talk, then expound, firmly, his own view.

Mr. Durbin, the other Democrat, has told Mayor Patterson that he is interested in "creative" assignments; and he has been assigned the job of liaison between Council and the new Joint Recreation Commission. In this post, he will be able to examine the development of Community Park and work with it in a creative way. "I think Mr. Durbin will be a constructive member of Council," Mayor Patterson has said. "He did object to the new library plans, and he will certainly object to other things as they come along, but this is good for the community."

New Man in the Chair. In the Township, there is a new mayor, William L. Wilson, who was mayor for only one year. asked Committee not to consider his name again. Mr. Wilson believes that the mayor should be able to spend considerable time in Township Hall, and as a New York commuter, he was unable to give the kind of time he felt was necessary. He also thinks that mayors should be available for ceremonial occasions — like the welcome-home to Lesley Bush — and here again, the commuter must be absent.

"But first of all," Mr. Wilson says, "I thought Carl Schafer would be a better mayor."

Mr. Schafer commutes, too, but only to Freehold where he is co-ordinator of distributive education in the Southern Freehold Regional High School. (This is a work-study program and Mr. Schafer teaches classes and supervises the youngsters who go out on jobs.)

Like his predecessor, Mayor Schafer is a Committeeman who watches the taxpayers' dollar. As vice-chairman last year, he ran meetings briskly and he is known to feel that brevity is an important part of parliamentary procedure.

Some mayors, like Mr. Patterson, enjoy an argument. Other mayors — and Mr. Schafer may be one — simply let the public speak, say a polite "thank you" to each speaker, and then reach a decision with other Committeemen in executive session.

Mr. Schafer has voted consistently with his colleagues, in fact, 5-0 votes are the rule with this Committee. He did vote "no" once on a bid because he believed the next lowest man was better qualified. However, his highest dissent occurred when Committee was debating a site for the new public library. For a long time, he was opposed to the Wiggins-Waterspoon location, but when the time came for a show-down and a vote, he cast a "yes" vote of confidence in the library trustees.

After Hours. The job of mayor in the Township is not eagerly sought. "They fight to duck it," as one official put it. Committeemen get $1,000 a year, the mayor $2,000. In the Borough, Councilmen receive no pay at all. The mayor receives $500 a year. In both municipalities, these men not only sit behind their nameplates, but spend almost full time running the town.

Police Commissioner William H. Walker in the Borough spends hours with Chief Peter McCrohan, discussing in detail a letter of complaint about some officer on the force, or reading the files of a patrolman up for promotion. He carries the Welfare portfolio as well, and spends almost as much time on that department.

Walter B. Foster, in charge of Township police, has Mr. Walker's responsibilities, too. And in this coming year, he will also serve on the Township Planning Board with Mayor Schafer. The Planning Board assignment is one of the most time-consuming a Committeeman can have. The Board meets twice a month, and its members have long and technical conferences with the Township's planning consultant.

Mr. Foster is not a planner; he is executive secretary of a savings and loan association, and like Mr. Schafer, who is not a planner but a businessman, he must do homework — literally — to prepare for these two meetings a month.

John O. Green, Township Committee's lone lawyer, is another one of those commuters. He comes to meetings straight from the train, and never goes home until the executive session has been adjourned, perhaps at midnight. A serious man with a deliberate, rather formal manner of speech, Mr. Green is charged with Township recreation. This past year saw the formation of the first Joint Recreation Commission, and the number of hours Mr. Green has spent carrying that recreation portfolio are probably without number. He has also been the answer-man for Committee when questions are raised about a community swimming pool, and this in itself is nearly a full-time job.

Although he is just beginning his second year on Committee, Russell Mount is the senior of them all in point of experience, because he has been mayor of West Windsor. Another quiet man — Committeemen don't talk as much as Councilmen — this apple-grower works with the Borough and the University on the Joint Sewer Operating Committee.

Let's Get Together. In the smallest ways, Committeemen "put in time." For example, both Mr. Wilson, when he was mayor, and Mayor Patterson spent time discussing with the Small Animal Rescue League just how the League would

Dr. Godfrey, the Borough's fire commissioner, doesn't have quite the administrative load of his opposite number. But the police commissioner. But Dr. Godfrey, possibly because he is a physician, has an orderly mind and he likes to see the financial picture clearly and in focus. So it was Dr. Godfrey who worked extensively with Mr. Wilson to arrive at the formula adopted last year for splitting costs fairly between Borough and Township on facilities they use together — library, recreation director.

Alan Carrick is a hard worker on the Borough Planning Board. Planning, zoning, shade trees — all of these are problems that Mr. Carrick takes home from his law office at night. A great letter-writer, Mr. Carrick puts down his thoughts in voluminous memoranda to whatever official or municipal body is germane to his thinking. And the Borough Planning Board takes up at least one night a month, and maybe more.

In the past year, joint meetings between Borough and Township have increased as the two municipalities have taken on more and more joint projects, and this adds considerably to the business of governing.

"There are some nights," says Mayor Schafer wistfully, "when we don't have a meeting . . ."

From both Princetons, as the new year begins, comes a very sincere invitation: "Please come to Council and Committee meetings — we wish more people did!"

Person To Person

Cory S. Kammler

We were given a paraphrased quote out of HIGHER WAYS OF HAPPINESS written by Dr. Paul Calvin Payne which we thought you'd find interesting: "The weakness of New Year resolutions is that they reach too far. They do not jibe with the human fact that life can only be lived one day at a time. Good resolutions are hard enough to keep without making them harder. If you are going to start a new, better habit you'll do better to make the resolution every morning, keeping it for a day. If you fail 50 days out of 365 you still have a good score, 315 to 50. Isn't that a lot better than to make a resolution for the year, and after the first lapse to say, 'Well, that one is out. One more resolution gone!' If we really mean business, every morning is a new beginning, not merely every New Year's Day." Without knowing we were following the good Dr. Payne's advice we've been practicing it for years in business, knowing that each day we either add to or take away from an earned reputation which we want to guard with our lives. . . and each day we resolve that we will serve you to your utmost economy and satisfaction. Christmas Fund Sets Record

TOWN TOPICS: Christmas Fund set a record last week by topping $4,000 for the first time since the first appeal was made in 1947.

The amount received is $4098.60. The highest previous total was $3,890.40 in 1961.

Contributions were sent by donors from every part of the Princeton community, from numerous nearby towns, and from those living many miles from here but who were once Princeton residents. Every cent received is allocated to the Family Service Agency, a United Fund member, for year-round assistance to underprivileged children. All administrative costs are met by TOWN TOPICS.

Committee Begins Work. "Recreation would be a dead duck without this land," observed Mayor Carl C. Schafer Monday night as Township Committee began the new year by considering condemnation of three land parcels.

The land involved belongs to Mrs. Esther C. Harrop and lies near the Unitarian Church, adjoining Community Park on the north. Thomas P. Cook, counsel for the Open Space Commission, told Committee that, after trying unsuccessfully for eight months to negotiate for purchase of the land, the Open Space Commission had decided to ask for condemnation. "If necessary," Mr. Cook added, "we still hope we can negotiate."

Included in the land are a plot of 50 acres, 3.58 acres owned jointly by Mrs. Harrop and the Central New Jersey YMCA Camps, and a 70-foot strip.

"Acquisition of this land is essential to the fulfillment of the Community Park plan," Mr. Cook said.

"It is essential to carrying through a community swimming pool," added Committee member (and former mayor) William L. Wilson, attending his first Township Committee meeting as a plain soldier in the ranks.

A letter from Ernest A. Lynton regarding the community pool, was turned over, without public reading, to the Joint Recreation Commission. All future letters on the pool received by Committee will be handled in the same manner.

"Scott House." In a hold-over action which began when he was mayor, Mr. Wilson told Committee that the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League was willing to take over "Scott House" on Herron-town Road, restore it, and use part of its land for the care of small animals.

"Scott House" belongs, technically, to the Borough, but is actually under joint Sewer Operating Committee's jurisdiction, and has been something of a white elephant because of its age and condition. Mayor Wilson told Committee that the Rescue League would take over the house on 19TH CENTURY WONDER: An old-fashioned magic lantern and slides that are 100 years old will provide entertainment at special matinees to be given Sunday in the Borough Hall auditorium under sponsorship of the Junior Museum. a 20-year lease, pay taxes on it and probably rent out at least part of it. "Scott House" is actually a two-family dwelling.

At the request of Committeeman Walter B. Foster, Committee expressed its appreciation to the whole Mercer County Assembly delegation for its support of a bill allowing patrolmen to live more than five miles from their headquarters. This bill, which died in the Senate, would have made both Borough and Township police recruiting much easier.

Committee passed a resolution offering "official and warmly personal appreciation" to James S. Hill, who resigned this fall as Township magistrate. Mr. Wilson, in proposing the resolution, referred to Mr. Hill's "selfless commitment to the highest standards" and pointed out that he had relinquished his post voluntarily.

"Stop" at Faculty? The Traffic Safety Committee has asked that Faculty Road be made a "through" street so that Elm Drive, the two roads that enter the new faculty apartment area, and a road leading to the University nursery, can legally be made "stop" streets. The question will be discussed with the University's representative on the Traffic Safety Committee before action is taken.

On the financial side, Committee passed a 1965 temporary budget of $217,000 to see it through such matters as staff salaries before passage of the regular budget. And New Jersey will re-inburse the Township $1,465 for highway lighting.

NINE FOR FIVE

In Township, Nine candidates have filed petitions for the five positions that are open on the Township School Board. In the Borough, the only contest will be for the one two-year unexpired term of William K. Evans. School elections will be held February 9.

For the Township's one-year term, there are two candidates. Robert E. Bonette, 59 Meadowbrook Drive, an advertising agency account executive who has lived in Princeton for 18 months, and as announced previously, Charles Jaffin, an attorney who lives at 522 Rosedale Road.

For the two-year term open in the Township, there are also two candidates, as announced last week: George Goldsmith, 27 Longview Drive, Physician at RCA, and Laurence B. Holland, 79 Deer Path, a member of the English department at Princeton University.

For the three-year terms, there will be a contest among five candidates: Mrs. Loren Johnston, 101 Overbrook Drive, a housewife who has been active in many community affairs, including the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, the Society of Friends and various UNICEF activities; and, as previously announced, David Brodsky, 463 Prospect, assistant treasurer of Educational Testing Service; School Board incumbent L. M. Hymerling, 297 Jefferson Road, a member of the Lewis C. Bowers construction firm; Mrs. George H. There will be no contest for the three-year vacancies, and so the following three Borough residents are automatically assured of a place on the Board: Mrs. Paul Strayer, 37 Jefferson Road, who will be serving her second term; Dr. E. FIRE TRUCK ABANDONED
As Police Give Chase. After a chase that began Wednesday in the early morning hours on Chestnut Street and ended on Route 1, Borough police were finally able to collar a stolen fire truck, but not the driver.

The bizarre incident began at 3:21 a.m. when Patrolman Douglas Watson and William Hunter, on car patrol, noticed a fire engine emerge from Chestnut Street and cross Nassau. Suspicious because the truck has chains on its rear tires—something the Princeton fire trucks never use when there is no snow on the streets—the two followed the fire truck down Olden and tried to halt it on Prospect Avenue.

Instead of stopping, the fire truck tried to force the patrol car off the road. It then turned left on Washington Road, out to U. S. 1 where it ran off a red light and turned right toward Trenton. At this point, the pursuing patrol car requested help from the State Police and Lawrence Township police.

Moments later, the driver abandoned the fire truck at Alexander Road and fled over the snow covered fields on foot. Members from the three police departments followed the tracks back to U. S. 1 but were unable to apprehend the driver. According to Chief Peter J. McCrohan, police believe there was only the driver in the truck.

The truck had been stolen from the West Amwell Fire Company, Mt. Airy, eight or nine miles north of Princeton on Route 206. Sgt. Arthur Gallant of the Borough police is conducting the investigation.

FIVE ARE FINED
In Borough Court, Elias B. Baker 3rd, 19, 142 Mercer Street, was fined $40 in Borough Court Monday for speeding by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. Magistrate Tams left the decision to revoke Mr. Baker's license in the hands of the Motor Vehicle Director.

Gerald I. Grover, 18, Hollow Road, Skillman, and Victor S. Preller, 33, Ettl Farm, Rosedale Road, were each fined $15. Mr. Grover pleaded guilty to careless driving; Mr. Preller to a late inspection violation.

In criminal court, Walter Daniels, 26, 166 Witherspoon Street, was fined $50 and $10

The days are growing longer, at one end, anyway. Even with winter still less than a month old, the sun is setting some 20 minutes later than it did on the season's shortest day, December 21. Shepard, in turn, appeared to face a charge of atrocious assault. According to Borough police, he slashed Daniels about the face and neck with a knife, leaving wounds which required 35 stitches to repair in Princeton Hospital. Shepard was committed to Mercer County Jail to await action by Grand Jury.

Robert G. Parker, 41, of Trenton, was fined $10 court costs and sentenced to one day in the Borough jail for larceny. He was accused of trying to steal ten pounds of potatoes and five pounds of rolled ham from the Princeton Hospital Sunday evening. Clarence Wyckoff, hospital security officer, was the complainant.

News Of The THEATRES

BROADWAY IS BACK
Play to Premiere Here, "All in Good Time," the British comedy hit scheduled to open in New York on February 3, will have its American premiere (and pre-Broadway try-out) in McCarter Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 28, 29 and 30.

Performances will be given Thursday at 7:30 and Friday and Saturday at 8:30. Mail and phone orders are now being accepted at the McCarter box office.

"All in Good Time" comes from the English playwright Bill Naughton who wrote the current Broadway hit "Alfie." Sir Donald Wolfit and Margorie Rhodes star, and Donald McWhinnie is the director. Mr. McWhinnie will be remembered for his direction of "The Caretaker" and "A Passage to India." The Naughton comedy won the 1962 London Drama Critics Award as the best new play of the year. McCarter hasn't had a pre-Broadway opening for seven years. The American producers of "All in Good Time"—David Susskind, Daniel Milnick and Joseph E. Levine—wanted a theatre for a particular weekend, and it happened to be almost the only weekend that McCarter was free. So . . . "Our Town," "Bus Stop" and "Separate Tables" all had McCarter world premieres.

REMINDERS . . .
Salzburg: Bogart, "Die Fledermaus," with the Salzburg Marionettes performing in Johann Strauss' music, will play McCarter this Saturday at 8:30.
"Mirth and Merriment," with Alec Guinness, W. C. Fields' Laurel and Hardy and Harold Lloyd in some of their choicest hits, will be shown at McCarter this Friday at 8.
The retrospective view of the late Humphrey Bogart will continue with "The Treasure of Sierra Madre" next Wednesday at 8.

SEATS STILL AVAILABLE
For Children at McCarter, A series of productions for children will begin at McCarter Theatre on Tuesday, and good seats are still available for all performances.
The series is sponsored by the Princeton Borough Elementary Parent-Teacher Association and is designed for students in grades one through eight. The first production, next Tuesday, will be "Young Thomas Jefferson," staged by Harnick-Adam Productions.

On February 2, The Children's Mime Theatre will pre-

IT'S NEW To Us

HOW ABOUT MINK?

Sable, For a Change, Milady, the new shop on Palmer Square, specializes in helping you decide how to spend your Christmas gift check of your husband's Christmas bonus. Assuming you needed help.

The shop is devoted to fine furs and fine jewelry, from sable to star sapphires. It is possible that you may find exactly what you want from Milady's own Palmer Square showcase, but actually the shop would rather have you make an appointment to spend the day examining and discussing the furs they will bring down from New York especially for you.

After all, an investment in mink, or even in a less expensive fur, is not made lightly, and Milady would like to be sure that you are sure before you buy. The furrier who will come to Princeton from New York can show you several styles, and when you have selected the one you want, he will make it for your own custom in his New York atelier. It will be, therefore, a one-of-a-kind garment.

We saw quite a few coats right there in the shop, however, and so can you, when you stop in. Consider, for sport wear, the Norrell-style black hair seal with its removable low-slung back belt, its big lapels and black mink collar. A companion coat — and even more striking, in our opinion — is a natural blue-black hair seal, with the softest natural grays making vertical markings down the back. You can almost see the seal himself. Dark grey leather piping edges the collar and front closing.

Another sport coat at Milady is a three-quarter cheetah, with dark tones running dramatically down the back. The jaguar jacket has the characteristic rosette between the shoulder-blades — your shoulder-blades, not the jag's. Oo the jaguar, the rosette is in the middle of the back. These jackets hang free and easy, and with a purpose: they are one size only, so that the skins can be left whole and pure. Adjustments can be made, of course, but actually only the shoulders need adjusting for a perfect fit. Coats recommended by Milady are always simple and classic in style, again because of that investment factor. However, if you want high-style in fur, just say the word, and the design can be worked out for you.

Capelets are enchanting little ways to spend fur money. Three mink capelets — one in "Morning Light," another Cerulean and a third Homocerule — will make you think three times before making a choice. A very brief Norwegian blue (fox Saga) has three large skins sewn in a tiered effect which is delightful.

All mink stoles, capelets and such are seamless, by the way, because only let-out skins have been used, meaning the choice pieces from any given pelt.

For just a whisk of fur, why not buy a sable "pixie?" It's a softly pointed cone hat, supple

No Salami?

Where cheese once bloomed, all is now mink. The Milady Shop on Palmer Square occupies half of what used to be the Nassau Del, before the Del moved to 70 Nassau Street splendor, and there's quite a difference.

Royal blue carpeting, wall to wall, for a start. Shimmering gold-white walls, to go on from there, and ivory satin chairs from the period of Louis XV, to go even farther. Crystal chandeliers have been placed just so, to give the most flattering light on the facet of a diamond, and pierced gold screens have been set to hide whatever work-a-day areas there are in a shop like this.

We liked the Del, you understand; it's just that there is no such thing as salami, Louis Quinze.

enough to fold away and put into your handbag, and so richly dark and lustrous that you'll be tempted to wear it in July.

Jewelry at Milady starts at $20 and climbs from there. The most charming of all the pieces in many ways is an oval mosaic pin, showing white doves bathing in a shallow bird-bath. There are several cameos, one with a lady wearing a diamond collar. A gold butterfly has cabuchon stones embedded in its wings. A star sapphire lies in the fan of diamonds that makes a pin.

One of the most unusual pieces is a fine platinum chain strung with widely spaced, minute Oriental pearls, at the end is a half-inch platinum booklet which can be used to hold your sentimental pictures. A quarter-inch diamond lock and a real key, keeps it shut from public eye.

You may of course, take your own furs or jewels to Milady for remodeling or re-designing.

SOUTH

In Silk. Like a good homing pigeon, the fortunate Princeton lass goes south in the winter, dressed in a light little something from Elise Goupil.

The silk print we saw first, matches royal and turquoise flowers against a background of tropical lime. It has a surplice neckline that works into a drapery arrangement on the left hip. Another flowered silk, quite different, has shaggy, watery flowers in tropical pastels and an overblouse which covers a chemise top. One rhinestone gleams from each of the two pockets. Ben Barrack is the designer of this one.

And of this one: a princess linen with the most intricate seaming you ever saw, and a single rhinestone in front. Avocado, gold, pink, turquoise.

And this one: a white silk linen with waistline tucks and a very wide neck — oops, it just slipped off the right shoulder — framed by the brilliant colors of a softly folded silk "cummerbund" that ends in a bow, set against a shallow V in back.

And this one (Miss Goupil likes Mr. Barrack's work): a white dress with embossed white roses all over, a deep V neckline, deep front pleat and — a rose on the front of the belt.

He has also done the brilliant

"KNACK" AT MCCARTER
Off-Broadway Show Here Feb. 1. The Princeton Jewish Center will sponsor a performance of "The Knack," a successful off-Broadway comedy, at McCarter Theatre on February 1.

Directed by Mike Nichols, the noted comic, the play stars Brian Bedford and has a cast of four—three men and a woman. The three-act farce was written by Ann Jellicoe.

Howard Taubman, the drama critic of The New York Times, called the comedy "one of the funniest evenings in town." He added that "the dialogue bubbles with unexpected humor; the action, much of it no doubt Mr. Nichols' contribution, is full of chuckles."

Mr. Nichols, who is also well known for his comedy routines with Elaine May, is the director of the Broadway hit "Barefoot in the Park." Tickets for "The Knack" will go on sale at McCarter on January 11 at box-office prices.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE
Sex and the Single Girl (starts Friday). This frantic farce gets more leers than laughs. The cast is loaded with excellent actors, but they can't beat a weak and tasteless script.

Tony Curtis appears as the slander-mongering reporter on a magazine called "Spot" which delves into private lives. Natalie Wood is seen as Helen Gurley Brown, who has written "Sex and the Single Girl," a book which advises casual sex relations between girls and married men. Curtis is assigned to get the low-down on her. Henry Fonda and Lauren Bacall are drawn into the ensuing tangle.

There are a few really funny spots and some fine musical numbers by Fran Jeffries and Count Basie. In fact, the film has all the elements, but they just don't add up.

GARDEN

The Luck of Ginger Coffey (through Tuesday) Nobody—employers, family or the buddies he puts the bite on from time to time—can really take Ginger Coffey seriously. He's an amiable Irish immigrant to Canada. At 39, he's still trying to make something of himself.

When he can't find a job that will satisfy his ego, the complications that arise make a fascinating character study. The genius of Brian Moore's script, which he adapted from his own novel, is the sympathy it evokes for Ginger, played brilliantly by Robert Shaw.

Mary Ure appears as the wife who wants to go back to Ireland; Libby McClintock as Ginger's daughter, and Liam Redmond as a frenetic newspaper editor. The musical score is very appealing, as are the location shots of Montreal—the first time this lovely city has been used as the setting for a major film.

Woman in the Dunes (starts next Wednesday) There will be almost as many interpretations of this Japanese film as there are spectators. It is the latest in the puzzler category, to which "Hiroshima, My Name," "Last Year at Marienbad" and "3½" belong.

The story, strictly adult fare, is presented on a realistic level, but its meaning is elusive and complex. A young school teacher, Eiji Okada appears on a desolate stretch of

"Circus" to Return

The "Cambridge Circus" troupe will troop back to Princeton for a return engagement in McCarter on Monday, January 18, at 8:30.

The first McCarter performance was sold out three weeks in advance, and this second performance "will absolutely be the last" (quotes from McCarter) because the original London company will return to England in February.

"Cambridge Circus" is now in its fourth month off-Broadway at the Square East Theatre. Tickets for the McCarter appearance are now on sale at the box-office.

sand dunes looking for insect specimens. When he misses the last bug home, he asks a passerby for lodging. He is directed to a cottage in a 100-ft sand pit, which he reaches by means of a rope ladder. The next morning he learns that he is trapped.

Frustrated in his attempts to escape, his predicament grows more appealing as the wind drives cascades of sand over the rim of the pit. The woman of the cottage shovels sand in to buckets at night when the wind is still. She tells him that if no sand comes out of the pit, no food will be sent back in return.

The situation is nightmarish. The story develops, with a series of fascinating details, the battle for survival and the relationship of the man and woman. The moving sand, as moody as the sea, is photographed with an almost hypnotic effect.

"Woman of the Dunes" will be Japan's official entry for an Academy award. It has been named by Bosley Crowther of the N.Y. Times as one of the ten best films of 1964.

More colors in linen than you ever knew: raspberry, wisteria, a lemony-limey lime, each one piped with white at a round neckline. Well, there are other dress styles, of course, but this one linen happened to have dropped in for a cup of tea.

SERVICE FOR SHUT-INS

Just Call Us. If you have ever had the care of a long-term shut-in, you know how welcome the simplest kind of help can be, or how urgent it can be to find someone to replace your regular practical nurse so that she can have a day off.

One of those licensed practical nurses, Miss Frances Patterson, has formed "Brighter Horizons" to provide just the kind of shut-in service so many families need for one or two days, she will relieve the regular practical nurse on duty with your patient (no longer than a day or two, however). Or, she and her associate, Eva Redding, will stay with your shut-in on a kind of "baby-sitting" basis, if no nursing care is needed.

She will stop at your home and take your shut-in out for a drive on a sunny afternoon, or for a visit to a friend. Perhaps it's difficult for you to get an elderly patient to the doctor's office. "Brighter Horizons" will be happy to serve as chauffeur. Sometimes a "shut-in" is not completely so, and can do a bit of shopping if it isn't too tiring. Call "Brighter Horizons" and the chauffeur-care - taking service will be promptly supplied.

A mother who is ill can call on the service to take children to music lessons — or just get them out of the house so that she can convalesce in peace for an hour or two. If she needs some errand-running, the service will take care of that, too.

Miss Patterson and Miss Redding have worked out weekly, monthly or daily rates, and if you want to discuss your own particular situation, you may do so by calling Miss Patterson at 586-6050.

THEFT REPORT

Packet Is Entered. Thieves closed out 1964 with a flourish, entering the new building of the Princeton Packet on New Year's Eve, and then showed no signs of slackening in their industry as 1965 began.

Taken from the Packet's new headquarters at 300 Witherspoon Street were an electric typewriter valued at $715, a $471 calculating machine and two other typewriters valued at $100 each. A fourth typewriter was also reported missing.

Police said entry was gained by breaking a casement window on the north side of the building. The window was then unlocked from the inside.

On Sunday, Ernest Hunt, 90 Westcott Road, reported that the home of his neighbor, Charles Chandler, 107 Westcott, had been broken into and ransacked.

Mr. Hunt, who was taking care of cats belonging to the vacationing Chandlers, told police that a rear door off the patio had been forced. Police investigated and said a TV set has been taken from the den and a bedroom had been ransacked but that it was impossible to determine if anything had been taken from the latter. The Chandlers are expected to return to Princeton shortly, police said.

Sounds of Breaking Glass. Just 87 minutes after the new year had begun, police received a call from a Lytle Street resident who reported she had heard the sounds of breaking glass. Investigating, Patrolmen John Bellow and Douglas Watson discovered a huge brick had been thrown through a five by eight-foot plate glass window of the 206 Television Center, 212 Witherspoon Street.

They notified the owner, Richard Schoen of Rocky Hill. Mr. Schoen said that a TV set valued at $150 had been removed from the rear window.

At 10 a.m. on Friday, Matthew Glinka, 293 Walnut Lane, manager of the Cottage Club, 51 Prospect Avenue, reported a $225 TV set taken from the club's TV room. Police reported discovering a broken window pane.

Petterson Marzoni, 178 Stockton Street, called last Wednesday to report the theft of checks and cash taken from his wife's handbag. Stolen in the morning around 2:30 by an intruder were two $10 traveler's checks, a $50 personal check and about $20 in cash.

Mr. Marzoni's 16-year-old daughter, according to the police report, heard sounds around that time but thought nothing of it because there had been a party earlier in the evening at the house.

The thief fled when another daughter saw him standing in the doorway of her room and screamed. The handbag had been left on a coffee table in the living room, police said.

Last Thursday, approximately $1400 in equipment, including power saws, drills, hammers and a cutting torch, were stolen from a shack and three trailers located on the site of Princeton University's second faculty apartment building off Faculty Road. In addition, about $80 in food was taken from a lunch wagon on the grounds.

ALARM IS SOUNDED

For Missing PHS Senior. A police alarm has been sent to 13 states for Walter V. Clark, 17-year-old son of Mrs. Miriam Clark, Center Apartments, Route 206, Clark was last seen New Year's day getting into a car on River Road near Griggs town.

State Police described the Princeton High School senior as 5-6, 135 pounds, blue eyes, blond hair with a fair complexion. He was wearing a corduroy coat, black turtle-neck sweater and a checkered shirt when last seen.

TO FACE GRAND JURY

Check Forgery. Mrs. Trueman Jezequel, 28, 116½ Leigh Avenue, is currently free on bail awaiting action by a Grand Jury, following her arraignment in Township Court last week on three charges of forgery.

Mrs. Jezequel was arraigned Thursday before Lawrence Caruso, acting magistrate for the Township. She was arrested after her husband had filed three separate charges of forgery against his wife.

Lewis Jezequel, 18 Bank Street, who is separated from his wife, charged that she had cashed three checks totaling $590 between November 27 and December 1 at the Shopping Center Branch of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company.

Police report that during this period, Mr. Jezequel was in the hospital. They added that Mrs. Jezequel had reportedly cashed an additional three checks at the main office of the Princeton Bank and Trust, 76 Nassau Street.

ADULT SCHOOL READY

With Winter Classes. Adults who still find excitement in learning will have a chance to explore many fields of knowledge this winter at the Princeton Adult School. Classes will begin Thursday, January 21, and will continue for ten successive Thursday evenings at Princeton High School.

The complete curriculum appears on pages 22 and 23 of this issue of TOWN TOPICS. Registration may be made next Thursday, January 14, from 4-6 p.m. and from 8-9:30 p.m. Where possible, instructors will be present during the evening period to answer questions.

Because most classes are limited in size, the Adult School Committee suggests immediate registration.

The one-hour lecture series this winter will be "Living Religions in Today's World," featuring a group of writers and travelers who will assess the effect upon religious groups of today's changing social, political and spiritual scene.

Dr. James McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, will give the first lecture, "Christianity in World History," followed by Philip H. Ashby of the department of religion at Princeton, who will talk on Hinduism in the mid 20th century and Hinduism in the daily life of the Indian people. Slides will illustrate these two lectures.

"Popular Religion in Contemporary Japan" will be explained by Marius Jansen, director of the program of East Asian studies, Princeton. Farhat J. Ziadah will cover the "Fundamental Beliefs and Institutions of Islam" and James Kritzeck will lecture on "The Frontiers of Islam."

Malcolm Diamond will speak on Judaism on two successive evenings and George O'Brien will bring the series to a close with a talk on "Catholic Renewal."

OPENING LECTURER: Dr. James I. McCord, Seminary President, will be the first lecturer in the Adult School's course on world religions.

A new course dealing with central problems in the theory morality and law will be conducted by Joel Feinberg of the department of philosophy, Princeton. Topics to be covered include the relation of religion to ethics, the degree to which motivation is selfish, the relation of justice to public welfare and the theory of criminal punishment.

SEE A MAGIC LANTERN

At Junior Museum Shows. Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Silvester Jr. will present an old-fashioned magic lantern show this Sunday at 2 and 3 p.m. The lantern and hand-made glass slides date back 100 years and belonged to Mr. Silvester's grandfather, a Princeton photographer.

The slides show historical and patriotic subjects and comic and grotesque cartoons in the style of Victorian engravings. Many have moving parts.

The performances for children and their parents will be given in the first floor auditorium of Borough Hall. There is no charge.

On Saturday, Charles Voith, Junior Museum director, will conduct two workshops at 1:30 and 3, titled "Science Magic, Toys and Tricks." Children 7 years and older are eligible for the sessions. Places for 15 will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Mrs. Jenny Lehmann is coordinating the February program on "Sound and Music." The Museum has asked adults interested in participating to call 921-9229. Musical instruments, pictures and other material objects are needed on loan for the exhibit.

COMMEMORATION SUNDAY

For University Dead. The annual service of commemoration for members of Princeton University who died during 1964 will be held Sunday at 11. Ernest Gordon, dean of the University Chapel, will conduct the service at the Chapel.

An academic procession will precede the service, and President Robert F. Goheen will read the list of deceased members of the staff, faculty and administration, and undergraduates. The committee on arrangements includes Dean Gordon, J. Douglas Brown, dean of the faculty, and Alexander Leitch, secretary of the University.

Members of the faculty and research staff who died during 1964 are: E. Harris Harbison, Henry Charles Lea professor of history; Karl F. Kirehner, technical staff, Plasma Physics Laboratory; Theodore V. Kirsip, research assistant in geology; Charles G. Oswood, Holmes professor of belles lettres, emeritus; Robert N. Pease, professor of chemistry, emeritus; William K. Prentice, Ewing professor of Greek languages and literatures, emeritus; Samuel S. Wilks, professor of mathematics and director, section of mathematical statistics; and Clodius H. Willis, Arthur LeGrand Doty professor of electrical engineering, emeritus.

SANTA SAYS "THANKS"

Hear You Next Year! Henry Schultz, indefatigable blind Santa Claus, has packed away his cheerful Christmas "hello" for another year.

In a message to Princeton this week, he thanked everyone for the support of his annual telephone service to children who want to call Santa. This year, Mr. Schultz said, more than 900 boys and girls throughout the state called to talk to him. "I am wishing everyone who will read this, a most prosperous and wonderful and very happy New Year. Many, many thanks for everything."

FIGHT LOSE LICENSES

On Points, For Speeding. Eight Princeton area residents have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles, four under the point system and four for speeding.

George H. Smith, 20, Pretty Brook Road; Edwin K. Annacodder, 25, 32 Main Street, Kingston; and Robert M. Wright, 17, Cranbury Road, Cranbury, all lost their licenses for three months on points. John Gornik, 33, Plainsboro, lost his for one month.

Those convicted of speeding include Dorothy R. Farrell, 56, Province Line Road; John F. Fraim Jr., 20, Forrestal Road, and Walter Dumont, 36, Plainsboro Road, Cranbury, all of whom may not drive for 30 days; and Sonja L. Perrine, 17, Cranbury Heights, Cranbury, who lost her license for two months.

CALL EARLIER!

Lower Rates Begin at 8. Reduced rates on long distance calls within the state will be effective at 8 p.m. rather than 9, beginning February 1. New Jersey Bell Telephone has announced the Board of Public Utility Commissioners accepted this and other adjustments so that time periods would coincide for calls made within New Jersey and to other states.

Revisions on interstate calls were agreed upon previously by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Federal Communications Commission.

The lower charges on station-to-station calls will apply from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday and all day Sunday. The night rates will be charged between 6 and 8 p.m. weekdays and from 4:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday.

Where Are the Babies?

Demographers at Princeton Hospital announced this week that the birth curve went down in 1964 34 fewer babies were born in the hospital in 1964 than in 1963. Why? Who knows?

For several years, the trend has been up. In 1957, 995 babies were born at the hospital. Then in 1958, there was a sharp spurt of 59 to a total of 1,054. In 1959, there were 15 more; in 1960 a drop of four.

The climb began again with 1,651 born in 1961; 1,073 in 1962 and 1,080 in 1963.

The peak birth month for 1964 was August with 103, followed by June with 100, November was the lowest. Only 70 born that month. There were very few twins born in 1964, and there have been no triplets since 1956.

Bernard Mount and Mrs. Hannah R. Tindall, current board members, are not seeking re-election. Donald C. Perrine, Hightstown Road, will run unopposed for the one-year term created by the resignation of Raymond G. Conover. Glenn Fowler, appointed as Mr. Conover's replacement, did not file as a candidate. Walter Dimitruk circulated a petition and reportedly mailed it to board secretary Clarence E. Reed last Wednesday, December 30. However, Mr. Reed had not received it by 4 p.m. on Thursday, December 31, and Mr. Dimitruk accordingly cannot run for the office.

The Distinguished Service Award will be presented to the outstanding young man of the year Monday night. The judging panel includes J. L. Becker Jr., mayor of Hightstown; G.R. Christie of McGraw-Hill; and L.P. Ivins, postmaster of Hightstown.

Past winners of the award are Robert Clayton, Chester McFarland, Joseph Locke, Edward McColl, Robert Sprout and Weston Fuchs.

PRE-SCHOOL CHILD TOPIC
Of Council Conference. The Council of Community Services will sponsor a luncheon conference Wednesday, January 20, on the possibilities of a pre-school enrichment program for children who are handicapped by a limited environment.

The luncheon, to be held at the YM-YWCA, will begin at 12:15, and seating will be limited to 100. Reservations should be made through the United Fund office, 4 Green Street, accompanied by a check for $1.50. A limited number of additional persons may be accommodated at the Y for the panel discussion after 1 p.m.

Panel members will include Dr. Nathaniel Boonin, child psychiatrist, Child Guidance Center; Dr. Marvin Bressler and Dr. Melvin Tumin, department of sociology, Princeton University; and Dr. John McKenna Jr., superintendent of Township Schools.

The Township inaugurated an experimental program (LAUNCEID) for children in kindergarten and first grade last summer with the goal of "cultural fortification" as a preparation for learning. Mr. McKenna commented that a child of limited educational background is frustrated rather than enlightened by his school experience and that enriched experience from the ages of 3 to 5 may well make the difference in his ability to read and to succeed in school.

The Council is concerned with helping children before

Dille Report Due Later

Mayor Henry S. Patterson was incorrectly quoted last week in regard to the scheduled release of the Joint Municipal Operations Study—the Dille report. The report will not be released early in January, as Mayor Patterson was quoted as having said.

Release of the full report hinges upon completion by the two school boards of their part of the study, and it is the school reports that were scheduled for completion early in January. However, even this deadline has now been extended because the boards need more time, and they will probably not finish until the end of the month.

After they have turned in their report, it must be incorporated into the master report. Some members of the study estimate that it will be as long as 60 days after the school report before the Dille Study will be announced to the public. Other, more optimistic officials, believe that the period of time will be less.

they become dropouts or delinquents and will providing equal educational opportunities for all of Princeton's children. The conference will explore existing programs, their backgrounds and conclusions to determine whether more effort should be made here toward helping the "culturally deprived" child.

The steering committee which will consider Princeton's needs is headed by Dr. Chester R. Stroup, superintendent of Borough schools. Working with him are Dr. McKenna; Mrs. Elizabeth Trimble, executive director of the Family Service Agency; Dr. Boonin; Thomas Caldwell, counselor for the New Jersey Rehabilitation Commission and a member of the executive committee of the Princeton Association for Human Rights; Professor Sheldon Judson, director of the Princeton Summer Studies program for high school students at Princeton University in 1964.

Also, Dr. Jeanette Munro, pediatrician; Peter Putnam, of PAHR; Mrs. Edgar Gemmell, intergroup relations chairman, Council of Community Services; and Mrs. John Ilvens, Director of Welfare, Borough of Princeton.

Police Action Protested.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The December 31 issue of TOWN TOPICS carried an account of the arrest and appearance in the Princeton Borough Court of Professor Alexander Beck and myself. The one-sided and misleading presentation compels me to reply.

Mr. Beck was fined $10, not $20; I was charged with interference with a police officer making an arrest, and not with any additional kind of disturbance as the concluding paragraph of your report might imply. The peculiar nature of the arrest and charges, not mentioned in your report, requires elucidation.

Upon arrival at the Princeton Borough Police Headquarters, the arresting officer spent approximately 20 minutes paging through a book of statutes in search of some plausible legal reasons for our arrest. Finally, he settled on profanity for Mr. Beck and on interference with arrest — for me.

In response to our surprised question as to what the alleged profane utterance was, the arresting officer burst out with a profane expression of his own. When we called his attention to his choice of words, he became helplessly flustered until one of his more resourceful colleagues came to his rescue by declaring that the arresting

"I DO SOLEMNLY SWEAR..." Glen B. Miller Jr., 243 Russell Road, was sworn in as Township marshal on Thursday by his good friend Judge Clifton Bennett of Mercer County Court. Judge Bennett administered the oath to Magistrate Miller with the help of the three Miller children and the historic old Bible that is always used on such occasions by the Township. Ceremonies took place in the library of Community Park School. The children are, left to right, Glen B. Miller III ("Peter"), age 6; Douglas H. Miller, 9, and Gay S. Miller, 12. (Staff Photo) officer was quoting Mr. Beck. In this way the officer's profanity was attributed to Mr. Beck and — with some amplification — became the only formal point on which the subsequent conviction of Mr. Beck was based.

As for my "interference," it amounted to nothing more than my offer to aid the police in their effort to identify Mr. Beck whose wallet was left in my apartment. Later, however, when I brought his wallet to the station, no one bothered to check his identification.

Further inefficiency was demonstrated by the following: charges against us had to be "readjusted" before the very beginning of the trial, necessitating a 20 minute court adjournment right after a ten-minute recess; the arresting officer could not recall the circumstances under which his witness had contacted him; and it turned out that this witness had not (and could not have) witnessed any of the alleged actions with which we were specifically charged.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Beck paid a total of $20 as TOWN TOPICS reported, representing a $10 fine and $10 court costs.)

UNICEF Aided by Card Sale

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I wish to thank all the many Princetonians who responded so overwhelmingly to my annual sale of UNICEF Greeting Cards and Calendars. This year's sale amounted to a $1120 contribution to the United Nations Children's Fund.

Through UNICEF millions of children and mothers in more than 100 countries and territories receive food and medical care. It is a privilege to live in a town where so many generous people care enough to help others.

Detection Drive Successful.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I wish to extend my personal thanks to you and to express on behalf of the Mercer County Component Medical Society our gratitude for the support of Town Topics during the 1964 Diabetes Detection Drive.

This year's Diabetes Detection Drive has been particularly successful — thanks to the support of every segment of the community. Over 6,000 people took the blood test at centers throughout Mercer County. This represents a three-fold increase over last year's campaign.

The mass media of communication, press and radio, can take special pride in the job they have done. The excellent coverage accorded this program was, without doubt, the single most important factor in creating the record breaking public turn-out.

BUSINESS In Princeton

HOW WAS CHRISTMAS?

Great! "It was the biggest Christmas we've ever had," said Harold Stark, manager of Bamberger's Princeton store, "the biggest in the ten years we've been open in Princeton."

Mr. Stark's happy announcement was echoed, almost unanimously, in the Shopping Center, along Nassau Street, on University Place and along the feeder streets where the small shops did business during the Christmas shopping season. And one man thinks that, with a little more co-operation next time, it could be even better.

Shop-keepers find a steady upward climb in Christmas business figures. "Slightly better than last year," ahead of 1963 and 1964 was ahead of 1962 is a continuing comment. Stone's Lingerie Shop, Edith's Lingerie Shop, Zinder's, The Country Mouse, Lucar Hardware, Happy House — just a few of the ones that find the tally higher and higher each year.

At TOWN TOPICS, the two 56-page issues of December 3 and 17 both contained more advertising than any previous issues this size, and the 64-page issue of December 10 set an all-time sales record for TOWN TOPICS.

For all four pre-Christmas issues, display advertising was substantially higher than in 1963, and for each one of the four, it was impossible to accept all the advertising submitted because there simply wasn't enough room.

And Quality. Aside from quantity, a new factor appeared in 1964, quality buying. "Economists had all foreseen freer spending and more spending on quality merchandise," points out Paul Ashton, owner of The Thorne Pharmacy, "and this was certainly true for us. Incidentally, business for us was better than our own projection had shown that it would be, and that projection itself was higher than 1963 to start with!"

BIGGEST EVER! Harold Stark, manager of Bamberger's, is contented about Christmas business. Other comments from Princeton retailers in story, this page.

At one point, with cosmetic and candy counters almost cleaned out, Thorne's talked frantically about locking the door and hanging out a sign: "Sold out."

Mr. Ashton reports a curious holiday phenomenon. In the weeks just before Christmas, his prescription counter was besieged with orders. Was everybody sick or just stocking up?

"Our quality goods went very well," Mr. Stark agrees. "Things like electric toothbrushes and electric knives were big sellers."

At the Happy House, L. E. Huntress says that not only did people buy more expensive gifts, they bought them at the last minute, on the day before Christmas. Usually, he says, these last minute "What'll-we-get-Uncle-Joe?" presents are the inexpensive variety.

"Our business was 60% over 1963," states Eric Mihan of The English Shop. "From December 1 right on, and across the board in all four of our departments, it was very successful."

Why? What contributed to the good season? The calendar, the good weather and the tax cut.

"The last week was tremendous," reports F. J. Worthington of the Princeton University Store. "Because of the Friday date for Christmas we had a whole week — or two more selling days than 1963. We did extremely well, as against 1963; I would venture to say 10% more. Department stores throughout the country are running 5%-6% ahead, so this is quite in line."

Lucar Hardware, new in the retail field, was 10% to 15% ahead of 1963; in fact, the store's owner, Alvin Carlson, reports that during the last week, he sold out on many lines and found it extremely difficult to re-order.

"The last day was especially good for us," says Merrill Zinder. "I'd say 'slightly better' than 1963 if it hadn't been for that final day; that was exceptional."

It is Mr. Stark who feels that the tax cut, plus the good weather and the full week of shopping before Christmas, contributed to prosperity.

How to Be Better. But could it have been better? Leonard LaPlaca of Nassau Interiors thinks so.

"We need more co-operation among retail merchants," he says. "We need to get together and do more promoting and more merchandising. Everybody goes his own way, but we should work next year on a group basis."

Mr. LaPlaca's chief concerns are traffic, parking, and getting out-of-town shoppers in-town. "We need more new customers who might shop here if parking and traffic were improved," he says. "I think Borough officials and the Chamber of Commerce have done a good job, but we must all work together for better solutions to this traffic thing."

Christmas and New Year's Day fell on Fridays and many shops closed on the Saturdays following. Mr. LaPlaca was one of them, but now he thinks he may have done the wrong thing.

Should We Close? "Are we really serving the public when we close on days like these? How about all those barbers who closed up on the day after Christmas or New Year's? Does the public appreciate this kind of thing? I think we lose goodwill and customers. Sure, we're tired from the holiday rush, but that's our problem, not the public's."

The final comment, in the spirit of the season, comes from Edith Zuckerman who runs Edith's Lingerie shop. "It was a wonderful Christmas. The spirit of the people was so wonderful — everyone was in such a good, happy mood and even the day before Christmas when everything was so hectic, it was just wonderful!"

SOUTH'S GARAGE MOVES
To Moore Street. The last vestige on Nassau Street of the Frank E. South Garage disappeared the first of the year. It moved to its new location, 36 Moore Street.

Frank E. South was a new car dealer in Princeton for 52 years. His showroom and repair garage in the rear were located at 2 Nassau Street. When Mr. South died two years

What Every Woman Should Know About Permanent Waving.

by Jheri Redding

Contrary to general belief, Permanent Waving is NOT the simple process that many women have been led to suppose. The process of Permanent Waving is a very complicated physiological and chemical process involving a series of chemical actions which are capable of causing serious damage to the hairshaft.

At the present time the greater majority of all permanent waving lotions depend upon the action of an acid called Thioglycolic Acid. The hair is composed of protein and protein is very susceptible to the deteriorating action of Thioglycolic Acid. The Acid, as it comes in contact with the hairshaft, causes great and immediate decomposition of the hair proteins, thus causing a change in the structure of the hair proteins, thus causing a change in the structure of the hair. As decomposition sets in, the hair swells and becomes "spongy." While in this condition, the hair is very pliable and thus it assumes the shape of the rod around which it has been wound and thereby it is changed from straight hair to curly hair.

Immediately upon the appearance of this change of shape it is necessary to stop the action of the Thioglycolic Acid (permanent wave lotion) and thereby STOP the DECOMPOSITION of the hair. If the action is not stopped immediately, SERIOUS DAMAGE may occur to the hairshaft and dry, rough, embrittled hair is the penalty. (To be continued next week.)

ago, Frank Perna and Angelo Dalle Peze, the current owners of South's Garage, took over operation of the repair service.

Mr. Perna and Mr. Dalle Peze reported that South's will continue to offer general automotive repair to American and foreign cars. The garage is located in the rear of 36 Moore, next to the University Cleaners building.

Many of the employees of South's Garage can point to long-time periods of service. Mr. Perna has worked there since 1918, Mr. Dalle Peze for the last 20 years. One employee has been there for 44 years and another for 40.

AGENCY CHANGES NAME
To Cregar Motors. Herbert Kane Motors, Inc., 830 State Road, has been renamed Cregar Motors, Inc., after its new owner, Charles Cregar, who owns a new car agency in Morrisville, Pa. which bears his name.

Cregar Motors occupies a modern new car showroom on Route 205 which can display up to 25 new cars at one time. It was constructed earlier this year.

Mr. Cregar, who has 15 years experience selling cars, also announced that he has hired extra service and repair personnel in a move to offer the best automotive service available in the area. "This is the phase of the business that I intend to improve as much as possible," he said.

Cregar Motors will continue as dealer for the same new cars Kane offered: all models of Rambler, Peugeot, Renault, MG, Austin Healey and Sprite.

MOVE ANNOUNCED
By Market Dynamics. Market Dynamics Incorporated of Princeton has moved its offices to the firm's new research building at 145 Witherspoon Street.

Walter H. Meyer, president of the corporation, said the new facilities were designed to provide a larger and more efficient working area for the firm's increasing number of employees. The offices occupy two floors of the building and provide 7,000 square feet of working space.

The company announced that Michael H. Sandler has been elected to the board of directors. Mr. Sandler, a vice-president of the firm, is responsible for client liaison activity.

Before joining the company in 1962, he was associated with R.H. Bruskin Associates. Mr. Sandler was graduated from Cornell University.

CONSULTANTS RELOCATED
On Nassau Street. The Frank M. Knox Corporation International, a 33-year-old management consulting firm, has opened headquarters at 70 Nassau St. The firm had been located in New York City.

The firm has been reincorporated as Knox International and is still under the direction of its founder, Frank M. Knox as chairman of the board. A member of American Management Association, the firm is a leader in the field of administrative cost reduction methods.

It has been cited by industry and government for its work in the areas of data processing, personnel evaluation, organization and production analysis, and sales and marketing evaluation. The company recently gained recognition for activity in the field of programmed instruction.

RECORD PROFITS AT RCA
Earnings Exceed $80 Million. The Radio Corporation of America has announced that it expects to have earned more than $80 million in profits for 1964.

David Sarnoff said in his year-end statement that the operating profits reached record heights for the third straight year. The figure for 1964 will exceed last year's by more than 20%, he added.

The profit momentum, he continued, places RCA "on the best number to call for classified advertising is 924-2200."

firmest footing of any time since its founding 45 years ago." Operating earnings per common share for 1964 should increase to a record high of approximately $1.50 as compared with $1.20 in 1963, General Sarnoff said.

NOT SO RESOLUTE RESOLUTIONS: Neither John Taylor (left) nor Adam Hammer thinks he will be able to keep his New Year's resolution very long. For that matter, neither do any of the respondents to this week's question with the exception of one girl who said her's "ought to last about a year." Most durations range from two minutes to a week. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: What New Year's resolution do you plan to make this year and how long do you think you will be able to keep it?

Where asked: Around town.

John Taylor, 1, John Taylor, 60 Harrison Street, Princeton, N.J., a student at Princeton Country Day, resolve to try to work harder in school and to accomplish more than I ever have before. I further resolve to live up to this until January 2.

Darius Adam Hammer, 67 Locust Lane, PHS freshman: I resolve in 1965 to wait 'til vacation time until I go to Florida and not to rash any more summer parties. I plan to keep it 'til last year.

Mrs. Richard Rowe, 86 Spruce Street, housewife: To wear my contact lenses—something I'll be able to keep about a week.

Nancy Madsen, Griggstown, PHS senior: To write a letter every day. I plan to keep it 28 days I won't have to after that because then he'll be home.

Mrs. Lu Case, Morrisville, Pa., manager of The Ski, 20 Nassau Street: I resolve to play golf every day from April 15 to September 15. Also to break a 100. I got a set of new woods and I'm rarin' to go. As a matter of fact, I'm going golfing today.

Miss Doreen Green, 280 Edgerstowne, children's nurse: To try to get up in the morning and be sociable. I expect I'll be able to keep that until tomorrow morning.

Linda Fox, 35 Hamilton Avenue, 7th grader, Witherspoon School: I resolve to raise my marks—that ought to last about a year.

Penny Wilkinson, 55 Little Brook Road, PHS junior: I don't make them because a year is such a long time. You can't be sure what is going to happen and if you can't keep them, what's the use of making them? I am not sure I can keep them, therefore I don't make them.

Karen Milford, Skillman, employee, Nassau Savings & Loan: To try to stay on my diet which I've been on about a day. How long? Oh... about a week, I guess.

Gordon Moore, 61 Random Road, PHS freshman: My New Year's resolution is not to make any because I feel they are never kept. I just try to be more than a week. Then I'll go on a full diet and have one continuous meal all day long.

Penny Foster, Kingston Road, PHS senior: Not to talk so much. I imagine I'll be able to keep that about a day at most.

James Cunningham, 20 Bank Street, PHS senior: To quit smoking, but I doubt if it will last long.

Miss Linda Asbury, Carter Road, teller, Whitecourt Bank and Trust: Whatever I make I know I won't be able to keep it longer than a month. It never seems to work out for me. I haven't even thought about it yet.

Dick Winterbottom, 80 Erdman Avenue, PHS freshman: My New Year's resolution is not to fight with my brother, but that's impossible so I'll be lucky if I can keep it two minutes.

True, in Great Grandmother's days, old women did put rosewater on their faces to make them look younger. This was considered witchcraft. When mixed with glycerine the rosewater and glycerine mixture quickly made skin softer, smoother and drove dryness away. Now, TRITLE'S Original Solidified Glycerine and Rosewater is much more effective than the liquid mixture Great Grandmother used. Greaseless, too. It transforms unhappy, aging, lined skin into a fresh feeling, more youthful looking complexion. Soothes and smooths rough hands almost instantly. Mayor Patterson's Recommendations for 1965

Following is the text of Mayor Henry S. Patterson's annual New Year's Day Address given at Borough Hall:

This is the fourth New Year's Day on which I have had the privilege of addressing Borough Council and the citizens of the Borough of Princeton, reviewing briefly the past year and suggesting some of the major goals for the year ahead.

As always and as predictable for the future, 1964 was a busy year. According to my records, there were about 150 scheduled meetings which I attended, regular and special meetings of Council and its committees, of the Library Board, with the Chamber of Commerce, with Township Officials, on the Miss Fine's School property acquisition, meetings of the Planning Board, the Joint Committee on Municipal Operations, and the Traffic Safety Committee and with the University on a variety of subjects.

The total does not include meetings with individuals within the municipal government on their various problems. Nor does it include the meetings of the Commissions, Boards, and Committees of which I am not a member, such as the Board of Health, Zoning Board, Sewer Operating Committee, Housing Authority, Joint Recreation Board and the like.

I do not mention these meetings to gain sympathy. For what I do or do not do, I will make no excuses and ask for no sympathy.

I mention them to indicate the complexity that your Borough has taken on, and, after all, I am paid. Your Councilmen are not and many of them attend just as many meetings and perhaps more than I do.

The Borough has devoted public servants in its elective officials and this devotion to the welfare of the community does not begin and does not end with any particular political party. We also have a fine staff of full time employees to whom we all delegate as much as we can and on whom we depend so much.

Highlights Listed. Some of the highlights of 1964 were as follows:

During the year, the architectural design for the new public library was prepared and approved. Nineteen sixty-five will see the beginning of construction on what promises to be an exciting addition to the Princeton scene.

Mrs. E. Baldwin Smith, President of the Board of Trustees of the Library, and her associates on the Board are to be congratulated for their patient, conscientious efforts on behalf of the Princeton Community. We can be sure that with this leadership, along with the assistance of so many other interested citizens, we will have this new library by the summer of 1966.

In August, a Joint Recreation Board was created in cooperation with the Township for the expressed, immediate purpose of developing the Community Gardens area as a recreation center for Princeton. A great many letters have been written by and to a great many people on the subject of the form that this development should take and the priority for the construction of the various facilities planned.

Last New Year's Day, I recommended that priority for the capital funds to be given for the construction of a new library and this has been done.

Buxton's dairy bar

LAWRENCEVILLE-PENNINGTON RD.
 (RT.546) Phone TW 6-1807

I am prepared to make a similar recommendation this year — namely, that priority for capital funds be given to the development of recreational facilities on the Community Gardens property. Such facilities on the Community Gardens property. Such facilities include a municipal swimming pool.

New Home Now Definite.
 For several years, the Borough has been concerned by the inadequacy of the present Borough Hall and by what could be done to provide proper facilities. As you know, the Borough leases and does not own this present building and grounds.

The solution suggested a year or more ago and which has now received judicial approval, is that the Borough will vacate the present Borough Hall property and will become the owner — not the lessee — of Miss Fine's School property. Princeton is indebted to the late Josephine Swann whose generosity, as evidenced by the terms of her will, and whose estate owns the present Borough Hall property for making this possible in the first place.

Appreciation must also go to the Trustees of the Estate, to the President of the Princeton Theological Seminary, and to the Trustees of the Princeton Day Schools, all of whom cooperated with the Borough in working out this most satisfactory solution to a Borough problem, an Estate problem, a Theological problem and a Miss Fine's School problem. It is important to remember that there has not been, nor will there be, any capital outlay on the part of the Borough for the acquisition of this property.

At the Miss Fine's School location, adjacent as it is to Morven, a new Borough municipal building can be constructed. At the very least, the property will serve as a municipal park and will provide facilities for civic and charitable functions. This use would involve, as would a new Borough Hall, the demolition of the older school building and the retention of the newer gymnasium.

Progress in Cooperation. We have all heard discussions — and sometimes heated ones — about inter-municipal cooperation and consolidation between and of the two Princetons, their governments and their school systems. During my term as Mayor, certainly the Township under the leadership of Mayor Wilson and before him Mayor Fairman, has always displayed a complete willingness to explore every possibility of increasing inter-municipal cooperation and to study the benefits and problems of consolidation, and the policy of this Borough administration has been to cooperate in turn.

The results have been obvious and far reaching — a Joint Recreation Board, the format

Mayor's Report

for a new sewer agreement, joint application for open space, and a formula for sharing costs on the basis of tax ratables for many cooperative undertakings.

Early this month, the School Boards of the Borough and Township are expected to complete their part of the report on Joint Municipal Operations. The overall report, covering all of the functions that go to make up the two governments can then be speedily completed.

This report may suggest avenues of further inter-municipal cooperation and will give the finite answers to questions on complete or partial consolidation of the governments and the school systems. Mr. Robert Dilley and the many members of the Joint Committee and its subcommittees, deserve a great deal of credit for their work.

A brief mention and a sincere thank you also to Mr. Walter Fullam and Mr. Donald Evans, the Chairman and Secretary respectively of the Princeton Committee for the New Jersey Tercentenary. These gentlemen and their committees did an outstanding job.

"Warm-Hearted Small Town" In my mind, the most satisfying event of 1964 was the welcome home ceremonies and parade for our Olympic gold medal winner, Miss Lesley Bush. This event stood out for me not only because such a charming, modest young lady was the recipient of such an honor, but because it also provided what some Princetonians have long suspected.

We are a small town and despite our reputation for sophistication, we can generate all the wonderful emotions and pride in our own that is usually attributed to our more rural cousins. Our community must not lose the spirit. We need it for our very survival as Princeton and to move ahead as we must.

Quite frankly, 1964 did have its disappointments. The major one to me was the fact that no progress was made with the State of New Jersey to advance the truck by-pass around Princeton.

Late in 1963 and early in 1964, statements were made by the Highway Commission indicating that the route for the by-pass would be announced momentarily, and this would have been an important step forward. Now questions in this regard are answered by reference to the uncertainty of the route of other new highways—namely Route 95—indicating more delays.

Incidentally, the route for Route 95 is of great importance to the Borough as an east-west roadway and the Borough will join with the Township and other interested municipalities in opposing the suggested route which would bisect the Township. This idea is unbelievable and unrealistic.

Traffic Problems Mount. Bypasses and thruways are only a part of our traffic problems. The other part of the problem is local in nature and must be solved on a local basis.

A thoroughly revised traffic ordinance was passed in 1964 which among other things changed or enlarged bus stops and loading zones and revised and standardized parking and no parking regulations on Borough streets. An important reason for this ordinance was to ease the flow of traffic. Still, we must work on other solutions, and specifically we must find some mutually satisfactory solution that will permit the realignment of Jackson Street on a practical basis.

There was plenty of evidence in 1964, as there has been in past years, that our Zoning Ordinance needs revision, and in the area of "planning" such revision will receive a high priority. It is a complex problem as those who are or have been on the Planning Board can attest.

There is by no means unanimity in the Borough as to what should be permitted or prohibited. Some would limit commercial development, others would encourage and extend it. Some suggest more apartment areas, others strenuously object to such a suggestion. In revising our present ordinance, there will be opportunities for all opinions to be heard and considered.

Last year on this day, I suggested that a fitting memorial to President Kennedy would be a rekindled interest on the part of all Borough citizens in their local government, an interest which would extend to more frequent attendance at Council meetings, more willingness to serve on municipal boards and committees, more active participation in local politics and a greater desire to run for elective office. There has been no evidence of any increase in attendance at Council meetings and certainly the physical conditions surrounding such meetings do not encourage attendance.

It has, however, become less difficult to find the hard-working citizen volunteers for an ever increasing number of board and committees. Whether this trend will continue remains to be seen.

Critics Often Unfair. The often unfair, uninformed, and unjustified criticisms of these volunteers will not make the Mayor's task any easier when appointments are to be made. As for the recent candidates, I will not speculate on their "desire" to run for elective office, but I do know that every Borough voter can take pride in the competence of each of the candidates—both losers and winners.

Mr. Alan Carriek begins his second term today and as a newcomer, we have Mr. Enoch Durbin. Mr. Carriek's accomplishments on Council are well known. I am confident that Mr. Durbin's will be equally praiseworthy.

Leaving Council today, after three years of dedicated service is Mr. Joseph R. Wood. We will miss him.

We have a new year ahead of us and after that another and another. We have a great community with wonderful people.

We cannot, however, take either for granted. We can and we must do the job that must be done to make Princeton better for all of us.

AUCTION PLANS SET

By Smith College Club. Smith College alumnae will hold their annual auction on January 30 in Miss Fine's School gymnasium.

The auction, under the direction of Mrs. Frederick E. Blum, will furnish funds for a scholarship program. The program raised more than $3,500 last year for Princeton area girls wishing to attend Smith.

SUBDIVISION PROPOSED

For West Windsor, The West Windsor Township Planning Board has received a proposal for a 39-home subdivision on the Hightstown Road. The development is the first of its type officially suggested for the township.

C. Lawrence Dey, the developer, suggested that the board amend the township's subdivision ordinance to permit a choice of cluster or conventional development in the village's residential zoned districts. He said he felt the cluster-type proposal was better suited for the area.

Under the township's new master plan the area where Mr. Dey would like to locate the project — on 20 acres of his 67-acre tract off the northern corner of the Clarksville - Hightstown intersection — is zoned as village residential. Mr. Dey said the homes would be divided into clusters of 20 and 19 units.

The remaining land would be used for landscaping and recreation, with about 28 feet separating the homes in each cluster. J. Robert Hillier of Fulmer and Bowers, Princeton architects' presented plans, a scale model and colored slides for the proposed development.

The homes would be of modern design and priced at $30,000 and would vary slightly in appearance. Warren B. Cook, chairman of the planning board, said he considered the plan one of the best he's seen and one which deserved "serious consideration."

CAMP OWNER FINED

For Violation of Migrant Act. Gordon Tindall of Village Road, Dutch Neck, has been fined for a violation of the Migrant Labor Act.

Mr. Tindall was assessed a $100 fine pending reinspection of housing facilities in the camp he operates. The hearing was conducted by Samuel Di Ubaldi, deputy commissioner of labor and industry in New Jersey.

CLEAR THE WAY

For Rural Post Deliveries. John L. Dilworth, Princeton's acting postmaster, has urged rural residents to clear approaches to mail boxes to facilitate deliveries in bad weather.

Mr. Dilworth asked that all obstructions be removed or minimized on all four of Princeton's rural routes. Mailmen have been instructed to leave a form stating that "your mailbox needs attention" if they come across any obstacles.

Unless approaches are cleared, Mr. Dilworth added, it may be necessary to withhold temporarily delivery of mail. Rural carriers are expected to make every reasonable effort to serve as many residents as possible.

CASE ISSUES REPORT

On Legislation He Plans. Sen. Clifford P. Case has issued a report disclosing that there are seven areas in which he intends to promote legislation in the 89th Congress. The New Jersey Republican listed the following areas of concern: highway construction, narcotics control, education, automobile safety, planning, congressional reform, informing the public. In regard to the last category, he said that "recent developments in the Bobby Baker case underscore the need 'for improving reporting practices on 'political campaign funds, the award of defense contracts and in the area of information about the activities of Federal agencies.'"

The text of his report: "Early in January, the 89th Congress will begin its work. During this period between sessions, I have been re-Viewing plans for new legislation which I will offer next year.

"Highway Building. The present national highway system does not fully meet the needs of a growing country, one in which more and more people are purchasing automobiles and crowding the existing roadways. In New Jersey, for example, we have had great need for a highway in the middle part of the state, linking east and west, perhaps between Asbury Park and Trenton.

"Narcotics Control. The growing number of drug addicts suggests the need for a new look. I believe that the United States Public Health Service and our Federal Narcotics Bureau should develop a limited demonstration program to check on (1) the effectiveness of the British Program, which involves treating narcotics addicts by psychiatry while curtailing illegal traffic in drugs by dispensing them under medical supervision and (2) the effectiveness of a new private program, Synanon, somewhat similar to Alcoholics Anonymous, under which addicts help each other overcome the drug habit.

"Education. We have helped relieve the shortage in qualified college instructors by establishing a program of Federal grants to assist young men and women in obtaining doctorate degrees, providing they take up college teaching. A similar program to help elementary and secondary school teachers

ART In Princeton

JANUARY EXHIBITIONS

At Gallery 100, Among the colorful prints of its Christmas Show, Gallery 100 included several woodcuts by a foremost Japanese printmaker, Rikio Takahashi. During January through the 24th, the Gallery follows up with a one-man showing of work by this artist.

A member of the Japan Print Artists Association since 1952, Takahashi has exhibited in all the major annual and international exhibits in Japan and his work is currently in shows touring the USA, Mexico, Ecuador, Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Israel. In 1961, he won "Best of the Year" at the Asahi Shimbun, the Graphics Arts Society of Japan, and he has made the unusual record of having been commissioned by the International Graphic Arts Society five times since 1959. In our country, his woodcuts are found in numerous private collections and in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art in New York, The Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Free Library of Philadelphia, and the Art Institute of Chicago.

Sometimes reminiscent of the familiar classic Japanese prints in texture and line, these woodcuts are, however, true abstractions. Reminiscent is the feeling of old parchment or aged rice paper which Takahashi achieves in printing his 20th Century stock.

Understandably Japanese is also the simplicity of the bamboo stalks and the formal high division in "Kyoto, No. 7," reminiscent of the blending of particular colors and the flicker of sunshining light in such a print as "Nostalgia" whose connotations are nevertheless as vague as his shapes and family disturbing to the subconscious of the viewer. In fact, this one of his most thoroughly satisfying woodcuts, is just what he must have wanted it to be . . . nostalgic."

Illusion. Quite different are the heavier abstractions with their strange cloth, elbows and tumps of transparent amber and jade. Less appealing to us, they are still done in the same intriguing approach as if the artist's idea were seen and drawn through the atmosphere, within the earth itself or under water with the resulting effect of illusion and movement.

"Old Capitol," its heavy forms with a kind of permanence, is suspended like a chandelier in the air. "Bouquet" is a combination of vague, unflowerlike shapes drifting lazily in a limpid underwater world.

The warm surface tones and sub-strata of "Earth Poem" will fascinate other than the geologist, and frequenters of Greenwich Village may well find a key to Takahashi's impressions of "Musician, Green Village" in the bare of music and orange against black, the guitar shapes and the wisps of jazz-like smoke which put together the picture.

For their quality of illusion, their construction, our own conclusions which don't always jibe with the artist's titles, these woodcuts are interesting to study as an important expression of the Japanese print-making today.

McCarter Theatre. "Movies and Movie-Making in France, 1874-1962" is a circulating photographic exhibition prepared by the Department of Cultural Affairs under the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs and lent in the USA by the Cultural Services of the French Embassy in New York. From January 8 through 30, the 21 photographic panels which comprise the exhibit, will hang in McCarter Theatre. (Arranged by the McCarter Theatre organization, this is not one of the monthly shows in the program sponsored by the Princeton Art Association).

"Introduction," "Early Inventors and Machines in France," "Recent Production Stars," and "Classic French Films," are just a few of the captions which, in toto, cover the span of French Movie History. Included are Director's Shorts such as the animated cartoon for advertising, "Notre Paris" done for the "Sound and Light Festivals."

Especially interesting is "Une Semaine En France," ten frames from a documentary which as "a visual research" won a prize for excellence in Moscow in 1962. Five of the frames show a beach at various moments of tide as part of Guy Fero's desire "to discover behind the apparent, the reality of great cycles of Nature." Young directors of the "New Wave" like Alain Resnais, young actors like Jean Paul Belmondo, "a pure product of the New Wave," are part of this history along with Brigitte Bardot, Fernandel, Jean Gabin and many others who have contributed on, off and behind the stage.

obtain advanced training, such as master's degrees will aid tremendously in improving the quality of basic education.

"Automobile Safety. The National Driver Register Service, which I helped establish, has proven its value. However, present coverage is limited. It could help the states get more unsafe drivers off the road if coverage were extended to include information about all drivers whose licenses are revoked or suspended.

"Planning. As Federal assistance to urban areas grows, better coordination of programs of urban renewal, mass transportation, air and water pollution, interstate highways and other Federal programs is essential to assure that they do not conflict with each other and that the end result is an attractive and efficient community. For example, efforts to and fouling of air in our urban communities are clearly inadequate. As New Jerseyans know, studies are fine but unless we buckle down to a real enforcement effort, the tremendous growth in industry and in automobile traffic will make healthy living almost impossible.

"Congressional Reform. Early in the session we must again try to revise Senate Rule 22, the filibuster rule, to make sure that the Senate is no longer blocked from carrying out its responsibilities.

"Also urgently needed is a thorough-going review of the procedures and practices of both chambers of Congress with a view toward making recommendations for improved efficiency. Disclosure of financial interests, which I have proposed in the past, is essential to this as well. There should be no room for a double standard under which Congress insists on detailed information from Executive officials while failing to disclose its own.

"The People's Right to Know. We must carry forward efforts to improve reporting practices on political campaign funds, the award of defense contracts, and in the area of information about the activities of Federal agencies, as spelled out in the Freedom of Information bill. Also important is revision of the existing lobbying registration act in order to make public essential facts about organizations and individuals seeking to influence Congress. Recent developments in the Bobby Baker case underscore the need for such information."

Bradley "Most Valuable"

Although the final balloting was not taken until after St. John's had edged Michigan, 75-74, for the EC-AC Holiday title, it was a foregone conclusion on a basis of Bill Bradley's performance against Michigan that he would win the Most Valuable Player award.

His 41 points against the Wolverines were the tournament high for one game, as were his 110 points for three. The latter total was second only to the 120 that Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati made in 1959.

It was Bradley's all-around play — rebounding, assisting, defending — that won him constant acclaim and a standing, minute-long ovation. A number of long-time basketball experts feel he is the best college player to appear in Madison Square Garden in the 30 years that the sport has been played there.

BOARDS CLEARED: Bill Bradley's ability to dominate the action in Holiday Festival Tournament in Madison Square Garden won him the Most Valuable Player Award. be in Dillon Gym Friday night at 8. The next night, it will be Brown, and Princeton should finish 20 points ahead of both.

Yale has already lost to Brown at New Haven, and is no better than 3-6 on the season. Only two lettermen, 6-5 Don Taylor and back courtman Bobby Trupin are left from last year's cast.

Brown, (3-4) has a taller, considerably more rugged squad than the Blue and frequent whistles are likely as the Bruins try to defense Bradley and 6-9 Rob Brown. Dave Tarr, 6-6, and Ray Jones, 6-5, are the Rhode Islanders' co-captains; 5-8 Al Milanesi is the best ball handler and a good outside shot, while 6-5 Don Tarr and sophomore Mike Fahey are other scoring threats.

Actually, the way the schedule breaks, Princeton fans will know by the end of January how likely their team is to finish unbeaten in Ivy action. The two toughest road games are set for the 16th of the month against Cornell and two weeks later, on the 30th, against Penn.

Last year, the Tigers won at both Ithaca and Philadelphia but were upset away from home by Columbia and Harvard. If they are 5-0 before February, 1, they will be a shoo-in to win the next nine.

QUESTIONS ASKED

Over Loss to Michigan There are numerous spots in the nation that are more basketball conscious than Princeton, N. J., but when the unranked locals came within three points of upsetting the nation's number one team, an awful lot of people wanted to talk basketball.

Day after the Tigers lost a 14-point lead in the last three minutes and an 80 to 78 decision to Michigan before some 20,000 in Madison Square Garden, anyone who had ever seen a basketball game around here had the topic as number one on his conversation list. Expressions ranged from delight over the team's ability to lead the nation's best during so much of the game, and complete satisfaction over Bradley's vastly superior showing in his widely-publicized "duel" with Michigan's Cazzie Russell, to irritation over the narrow defeat.

Inevitably, Coach Bill van Breda Kolff was the target of many of the sideline strategists. These three charges were most frequently made:

• When Bradley picked up his fourth foul with six minutes to go, and showed signs of tiring by missing two consecutive free throws for the first time in his Princeton career, why wasn't he withdrawn for a brief rest? The Tigers had a 71-57 lead at the time, and if they had blown it, —Continued on Page 26

TIGERS TO WIN 'EM ALL?

Should Dominate Ivy Race. No team has ever achieved a 14-0 mark in the Ivy Basketball League, but such a feat is clearly within Princeton's reach in Bill Bradley's final year. Penn and Cornell are the lone threats to a perfect season, but if the Tigers don't win 'em all, it will only be because they beat themselves once or twice, and not the other guys doing.

It has been 14 years since an Ivy team compiled a perfect record, Columbia winning all 12 in 1951—the year before Brown joined the circuit to give every team a 14-game schedule. Before that, the last 1,000 mark was earned by Dartmouth in the abbreviated war year of 1944, when the Indians went 8 and 0.

In 1937, Penn was 12 and 0, so there have been only three perfect seasons in more than a quarter century. It takes some doing, but a team that can whip Syracuse and come within three points of beating Michigan and Cincinnati in Madison Square Garden should be able to defeat each of its seven Ivy opponents twice.

Yale, lacking Rick Kaminisky, Dennis Lynch and Dave Schumacher, with whom it chased the Tigers down to the wire two years running, will

Bradley Nears Last Record

When Bill Bradley scores his 16th point against Yale Friday night, he will own every record in the Princeton basketball book.

The Tiger's All-American needs 16 more to take the career mark in Ivy League action. After two seasons, he has 849, the record set in three full years by Pete Campbell '62 is 864.

All other Princeton records (see box, page 23) for one player have fallen to Bradley at various intervals since his varsity career began in December 1962. He also holds six individual Ivy League records and will add the career mark to his collection Friday, since Campbell's 864 is the Ivy high as well as the Princeton standard.

half of it or more in the next three minutes, a fresh Bradley might well have returned to preserve the victory.

• When Bradley, Brown and Rodenbach (who did such a magnificent job in holding Russell to eight first-half points) had all fouled out, why did Princeton try to protect its narrowing lead with five sophomores? Seniors Bill Kingston and Don Both, veterans with considerable ball-handling experience, watched from the bench while their younger teammates three times were unable to advance the ball past mid-court after Michigan baskets.

• Finally, the basketball fans around here are asking, when will Bill van Breda Kolff curb his emotions to the point where he no longer incurs damaging technical fouls? The fourth of the season was called against him late in the first half of the Michigan game, and the Wolverines promptly hung a point on the scoreboard. Without it, they would have come downcourt with 36 seconds left trailing, 78-77, instead of even at 78 all. With the score tied, they could kill all but a few seconds and let Russell shoot for the winning basket—secure in the knowledge that if they missed, they could scuttle a Bradley-bench team in five minutes of overtime.

Behind by one, however, they have to shoot in a hurry, and, the fans say sadly, no one will ever know whether Princeton would have beaten the nation's top ranked team, 78 to 77, without that technical.

Tigers Finish Fourth. A couple of cold stretches in field goal shooting, inaccuracy from the foul line and a tendency to draw too many personals all were debited against Princeton in Saturday night's playoff for third place. A rally that Bradley led out Cincinnati margin from 11 points to two in the closing minutes, but the Wildcats prevailed, 71 to 69.

The Ivy Leaguers rolled up an eight-point lead early in the action but fell behind, 37-33, at the half when Bradley began hitting the rim on field goal shots and everyone else was far colder. As matters turned out, the others stayed that way, no one hitting for more than eight points. The team performance at the foul line, exclusive of Bradley, showed a miserable 4 for 11.

Cincinnati dominated the first ten minutes of the second half to the extent that it ran up a 59-45 margin, but as the clock began to run out, it made the mistake of attempting to freeze, Bradley regained his accuracy, bucketed 12 points in the final seven minutes and almost engineered a rally that pulled the game out of the fire.

When it was all over, the Tigers had produced the tournament's most valuable player and had made a better showing by reaching the semi-

ASSOCIATION FORMED

To Aid Princeton Hockey. Formation of the Friends of Princeton Hockey, an organization to promote the best interests of the sport here, was announced this week. Its president is Peter G. Cook, a standout player nearly three decades ago and today conceivably the nation's only grandfather still able to withstand the rigors of a healthy boardcheck. His three sons have all played varsity hockey at Princeton.

Other officers are Fred Wandelt, vice president; John Denny, secretary; William Koch, treasurer. MacPherson Raymond and Kevin Kennedy have been named as a two-man public relations committee; John Bernard and Charles R. Erdman are serving as the membership committee.

Cook said that a club room in the north tower of Baker Rink will be set aside for use of members during games. Circulation of a news-letter is planned, as is promotion of attendance at home games.

All residents of the Princeton area interested in the development of hockey here are eligible to join. Annual dues of $10 may be sent William Koch at Room 331, 70 Nassau Street.

Friday in the Nichols School Tournament at Buffalo and a 5-2 loss to Yale the following night marked last week's action for the Princeton hockey team. The Tigers will follow Tuesday's game with Providence (see page 31) with a trip to Ithaca Saturday to face Cornell in their first Ivy game of the season.

A strong rally against Dartmouth won for the Tigers, who trailed, 3-0, with less than two and a half minutes gone in the first period. All of the Indians' scoring came in a space of 26 seconds.

Defenseman Charlie Stuart made the first goal unassisted on a sharp shot from the blue line. Two more Dartmouth goals followed at intervals of no more than 12 seconds. Bill Smoyer getting the last at 2:19.

Ten minutes later, Steve Cook started the Tigers' drive to get even and when Captain Em Hall followed with another Princeton goal at 17:27, Princeton was back in the game in a hurry. A scoreless second period followed but George Peterson created a 3-all deadlock at 7:01 of the third.

Bob Clarke provided the go-ahead goal at 13:03 and Dartmouth pulled its goalie with 1:25 to go. He was re-inserted a minute later, when Princeton had a face off near the Indians' cage, and Mike Peterman scored at 19:41 to make it a 5-3 final.

MUSIC FROM COMPUTERS
In Unusual Project, Princeton University's Computer Center considered primarily the domain of engineers and physicists, is being used by members of the music department to produce tones that conventional instruments are unable to create.

The project, promoted with the help of $15,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation, is under the direction of Professors Arthur Mendel, Lewis H. Lockwood and James K. Randall of the music department. Besides producing unusual musical tones, the computers are being used to analyze the musical style of the masses of the 16th-century composer Josquin Desprez.

The IBM 7094, one of the largest and fastest of modern computers located in Princeton's Computer Center in the Engineering Quadrangle, has been made available for the project. The electronic production phase of the research is being conducted with the aid of Max Mathews, director of the Behavioral Research Laboratory at Bell Laboratories in Murray Hill.

The computer is being used to simulate performance by conventional musical instruments but is generating sound in rhythmic and timbral patterns which cannot be produced normally by such instruments. The results of the research will be of great interest to contemporary composers, according to the Princeton researchers.

In the study of Desprez' works, computers are being employed to answer questions on the particular contrapuntal and harmonic elements in the composer's music. Desprez' works, composed in the early 1500's, marks a significant period of development in the opinion of musicologists, the Princeton professors reported.

Factors in his music which are being studied include the use of specific melodic patterns in particular voice-parts and combinations of voices; the presence or absence of certain harmonic intervals and progression of such intervals; and the relative length and metric position of long and short, accented and unaccented syllables. With this information, the researchers will test hypotheses concerning the relationship of music and text in Desprez' works.

A Basic Objective. The directors of the Princeton computer center feel that the work by the music department is indicative of the aim of the center. It is intended to be available to every division of the university, including the humanities and social sciences. The center was established in 1963.

rof. Mendel, a member of the Princeton faculty since 1952, has been the chairman of the music department since coming to the university. For 17 years he conducted the Cantata Singers of New York City, a small choral group, and is a former editor of the American Musicological Society.

A 1955 graduate of Columbia, Professor Randall has taught at the United States Navy School of Music in the Nation's capital. He is a composer and theorist and last spring was one of six assistant professors at Princeton to be appointed to Bicentennial Preceptorships.

Prof. Lockwood, a former recipient of a Fulbright Scholarship, was with the Seventh Army Orchestra as a cellist before joining the Princeton faculty in 1958. He is a specialist in 16th-century music and is currently editor of the "Journal of the American Musicological Society."

WELL-PLANNED INDUSTRIAL PARKS GIVE IMPETUS TO NEW JERSEY'S GROWTH

The photograph above is of the Great Falls of the Passaic River, Paterson, New Jersey. It is the site of America's first industrial park. The year? 1791! The man? Alexander Hamilton! He helped form an organization known as "The Society for Establishing Useful Manufactures", the country's first planned industrial complex "where should be gathered the most skilled artisans of the entire world under whose trained eyes and hands should be all the supplies... needed to make this country independent."

What Alexander Hamilton started in 1791 has multiplied. Today, New Jersey has the highest concentration of industrial parks in America, and their continuing appeal to industries of all kinds is a strong indication of healthy economic growth within the State.

It is important for New Jersey to continue attracting industry for new industry means more jobs for its citizens. For many years, Public Service Electric and Gas has been advertising the advantages of New Jersey in nationally-known and nationally-circulated newspapers and magazines. We are part of an industrial team working together for the benefit and economic growth of the entire State. Efforts such as this on the part of its citizenry, combined with the national advantages offered by New Jersey, give assurance of the future.

PHS TRIPS PENNINGTON

In Last Period Surge. After 3:54 had gone by in the third quarter in Tuesday evening's battle between Pennington High School and Princeton High, PHS coach Tony Borzok leaned back to his assistant coach, George Povilaitis and said: "Cliffhanger. This one's going to be a cliffhanger. At the time, his team trailed, 37-36.

Until then, the contest had been a dogfight. After Pennington had taken a 14-9 first period lead, the visiting Little Tigers pulled ahead during the next eight minutes of play, mainly on the nine-point performance of Captain Pete Heiberger. Then it was the Bulldogs who rallied in the final seconds of the first half to earn a 30-30 deadlock.

Next, the teams battled to a 37-37 tie with neither edging ahead by more than three until Pennington ripped off five points in a row to take a 42-37 lead. Borzok began to squirm.

Between glances at the clock he said, "We haven't faced this type of defense before; we can't get ahead." Pennington's use of a wide, zone defense, shifting to a man-for-man whenever any Little Tiger tried to come down the middle, was raising hob with the visitors.

Then came two key back-to-back baskets that turned the game around, from a cliffhanger into a rout. They came just before the end of the third period with PHS trailing, 42-41. Colin Leitch got the first one, a pretty twisting layup. Wilbur Hines followed with a steal for a layup and the Little Tigers never stopped thereafter.

In the last period, Hines and Leitch simply took the Bulldogs apart with a dazzling display of shooting. They combined for the next 11 PHS points to provide a 56-47 bulge. First it would be Hines with a variety of one-handed swishers from the outside — graceful shots all — to be followed with a workmanlike layup underneath by Leitch. Their targetry accounted for 23 of the 32 points the visitors tallied in the final period.

The final score was Princeton 77, Pennington 63. For the visitors it was their fifth win in seven starts. For Norm Uddy's Bulldogs, it was the fifth setback in eight games. PHS had also defeated them last month.

Press Changes Tide. What changed the tide? "It was the press that did it," said Borzok. "We weren't running in the first half. When we started to run we started to score."

The game also served to illustrate the trials of the current Princeton High squad. One, its shooting can become unbearably hot in a matter of minutes; and two, it refuses to panic when behind. Both of these are solid pluses, of course, and should serve it well in the games ahead.

On another note, Leitch, Hines and Heiberger continue to pile up personal accolades. Leitch finished with 27 points, closely followed by Hines with 25. Heiberger, blanked in the first and third periods, had 12.

Thus the three maintained their record of hitting for double figures in all of the team's first seven games. As usual, Hine's artistry in shooting was a key factor. But in this particular game it was Leitch more than anyone else who was entitled to wear the laurel.

Clearly, it is he who is the mortar which binds the team together. Setting up plays, directing, fighting underneath for rebounds, feeding off, following up missed shots — in short, a complete player.

The icing on the cake Tuesday was a 55-44 triumph by Princeton in the jaycee game. To date, the reserves, coached by George Povilaitis, have lost only one. All in all, for Princeton, it was a very agreeable way to start 1965.

ONE PERIOD TOO MANY

Tigers Lose in Overtime. When the overtime period began against Providence in Baker Rink Tuesday night, Princeton's hockey team had two men in the penalty box.

The visitors had one, too, but their one-man advantage on ice was more than the home team could withstand, and a methodic power-play paid off in short order. Captain Dan Sheehan beat goalie Graeme Flanders with 37 seconds of the extra period gone for a 3-2 decision.

Princeton never lead in the occasionally slow-moving contest, but managed to draw even each time the Friars scored. The 1-0 lead that Providence took into the dressing room at the end of the first period was erased when first-line center Bert Bruser scored unassisted. He stuffed the puck into the cage after skating behind it for an unassisted goal at 12:42 of the second round.

Again, the visitors took the lead on a blue-line shot by defenseman Frank Brander, but Howard McMorris matched this effort early in the third period. That, too, was a sharp thrust from 45 feet away, Buss Hall and Mike Peterman getting assists.

That was the way it stayed until the end of regulation time, despite a number of scoring chances for both teams. Shortly before the buzzer sounded, Steve Cook drew a penalty for tripping and just as time ran out, Buss Hall and the visitors' John Doherty were banished for high-sticking.

With only four men on the ice, the Tigers never did control the pluck in over-time. The loss was their seventh of the year against three victories.

A CHINESE acquaintance of ours was sketching some letters in his native language one day, and he turned out the phrase at the left.

"I wanted to show you how 'TOWN TOPICS' would look in Chinese," he said, "but it doesn't translate very easily. So what I have here really says, in effect, 'No. 1 Newspaper in Town'."

WE THOUGHT that was pretty nice, because here he was handing back to us what we have been saying on occasion about TOWN TOPICS. As a matter of fact, our Chinese friend is not the only one who goes along with this feeling.

FOR EXAMPLE, there are the food store advertisers who each week buy about three full pages in TOWN TOPICS — the only Princeton newspaper in which they advertise. Then there are the real estate agents, who regularly buy more space in TOWN TOPICS than anywhere else because they check the results they get so carefully. It's the same story with classified advertising — TOWN TOPICS carries a greater volume each week without ever cutting its rates as a come-on.

OUR THANKS to our Chinese friend for his thoughts, and our deep appreciation to those who show each week that they agree with him.

News Of The CHURCHES

DR. KENNEDY COMING
To Preach Sunday, Dr. Edwin O. Kennedy, secretary of Union Theological Seminary and associate professor of practical theology, will preach at the 3:30 and 11 a.m. services at Second Presbyterian Church this Sunday.

The public is also invited to hear Dr. Kennedy speak at 4:30 Sunday in the social hall of Second Presbyterian Church on "Union Seminary 1965." Refreshments will be served at 4:15. Graduates of Union and Auburn Theological Seminary are invited to meet with Dr. Kennedy, who became an affiliate of Auburn in 1959.

Prior to returning to Union in 1952, Dr. Kennedy was minister of First Presbyterian Church, Englewood; Christ Presbyterian Church, Madison, Wis.; and Ridgeview Community Presbyterian Church, West Orange. He received his A.B. from Union College, Schenectady, N.Y., and his B.D. (M.C.L.) from Union Theological Seminary. Dr. Kennedy holds D.D. degrees from Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., and Union College.

EPHESIANS STUDY OPEN

For Further Enrollment. The interdenominational "Ephesians Study" project will begin its six-week discussion next week in over 34 neighborhood groups. Participants to 250 with an additional 100 in leadership roles.

Those interested in enrolling should call Mrs. Margaret Parlee at 924-9178. Groups meet seven evenings a week.

This Sunday, the participating clergy will launch the project sponsored by the Pastors' text from Ephesians. The study text by preaching on a given Association and the Princeton Christian Unity Committee.

KNOW YOUR PASTOR

"Sunday's A Holiday." The only Princeton clergyman to line his driveway with rows of lighted Christmas candles is a Texan, the Rev. Arthur J. Lockhart of Trinity Episcopal Church.

A native of Houston, the Rev. Mr. Lockhart used the Southwest's method of enclosing the candles in treated white paper bags. The glowing effect has been a conversation piece all over Nassau Estates.

Another conversation piece is the Rev. Mr. Lockhart's belief in Church School on Wednesday. "Some parents throw up their hands at this," he says. "Others ask 'what time? We'll leave Wednesday open.'"

Church school in his former parish in Athens, Texas, was held from 7 to 7:50 every Wednesday evening. "The children liked it. Most of the classes by 4th grade had almost perfect attendance. There was class spirit, too. Some kids wouldn't think of missing church school after they attended for a time."

Ordained in 1952, the Rev. Mr. Lockhart, 39, is a tall soft-spoken pipe-smoker. He is a graduate of Sewanee (University of the South) and General Theological Seminary, New York City. Ordained in 1952, he served as priest-in-charge at several missions, as curate of St. Andrew's Church, Houston, and as rector of St. Matthias for six years.

He came to Trinity with his wife, Sally, and two small daughters last summer. At Trinity, he is in charge of the 800-pupil Church School, which began Wednesday classes for the 6th and 7th graders last year. Eighth grade classes were switched from Sunday to Wednesday this past fall, and possibly 3th grade will be added next year.

"More and more people are discovering that Sunday is a very poor time for Christian education," Mr. Lockhart comments. "It seems to be growing difficult for whole families to come out together on Sunday. Morning and Wednesday afternoon classes give families more freedom."

"We get to church on Sunday in the middle of what everyone regards as a holiday... especially the kids. Attendance at church school may be around 65% on a Sunday, but weekdays this increases to 85-95%. And I believe that regular school hasn't the discipline problems that Sunday Schools have. I think that this, too, is due to the fact that the children consider Sunday a holiday."

Wednesday classes at Trinity include the children of All Saints' Chapel, whose pastor, the Rev. Charles G. Newberry, conducts a class. School is held for an hour and a half.

The Sunday agenda is a family worship service, followed by a junior fellowship spiced with cocoa, cokes and discussion "something the Trinity Teens have done for years" for members of Wednesday Church School. The younger children have regular Sunday School classes. "But I feel that the teachers should be involved in the worship service. This is disturbed by the class that is coming next."

"Worship is of supreme importance for the Christian Sunday," the Rev. Mr. Lockhart says, "but the possibilities of weekday church school are stimulating and exciting."

BRIEFING HELD

By College Freshmen. Nearly 100 members of Princeton High School's Class of 1964 returned last week to coach 160 seniors on aspects of college life.

They covered matters ranging from reading assignments to rush week, class schedules to dormitory hours. The returning freshmen represented 82 colleges.

A panel, moderated by Allen Kirschner, a chairman of the high school English Department, held forth for nearly an hour. Members included Keith Allen, Rutgers; Lenni Gurin, Vassar; Lloyd Ballinger, Montclair State; Amy Doornekamp, Hood; Mark Ritts, Harvard; and Charlotte Yoder, Lindenwood College.

Informal student-to-student conversation followed, held in various sections of the cafeteria and social room marked by college signs.

According to George Petrillo, the member of guidance department who worked with the Class of 1964 during its four high school years, "this session was well worth the time. The reaction I got from the seniors was just wonderful. And it was a little reunion for 64."

A pilot program was tried last year, stemming from an idea of Thomas Saraydarian, head of the Guidance Department. "We're going to try to encourage student-to-student programs," he says. "Quite often, these youngsters at the high school are hearing the same thing from the college students that they hear from us, but it seems to have more impact when the statements come from their peers."

IT'S CARNIVAL TIME

For Skating Club. The Princeton Skating Club will present an ice carnival on Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13, at Baker Rink. The event is sanctioned by the U. S. Figure Skating Association.

Mrs. Robert J. Sullivan is carnival chairman, with Mrs. Hugh B. Samson and Mrs. Frederick H. Wandell serving as vice-chairmen. Committee heads are: Mrs. J. Harris Matthey and Mrs. Peterson Marzoni, staging; Mrs. John K. Lee and Mrs. Frederic L. Schluter Jr., costumes; Frederick P. King, treasurer; Mrs. Henry Halpern, publicity; and Mrs. Thomas C. Atchison, arrangements for out-of-town skaters.

OFFICIALS NAMED

For Montgomery Township. Donald W. Perkins was elected mayor of the Montgomery annual reorganization meeting. Township Committee at its annual reorganization meeting. He is a Republican.

Former mayor, Edward A. James was named vice-mayor. A Democrat, he is joined on Committee by Robert P. Frohling, former chairman of the Planning board. Mr. Frohling defeated William Shepley in November.

James Ward and Douglas Smith received two and three-year appointments to the zoning board of adjustment, and George Seitz and Richard Bell were named to six and five-year terms on the planning board.

Arthur Downs was named to the recreation commission and Carroll D. Smith will serve as the second building inspector to assist with the increased building in Montgomery.

Mrs. Beatrice Skillman, Township clerk for the past 15 years, will fill the new post of Township administrator, in addition to her previous duties. Mrs. Cheryl Soos, her secretary for the last two years, was named deputy clerk.

The projected operating budget for 1965 was set tentatively at $36,750.

MUSIC In Princeton

HOLLANDER TO PERFORM
Pianist Next In Series I. In January, 1959, Lorin Hollander was summoned from his classroom at the Juilliard School to answer an important telephone call: would he substitute the following evening in San Antonio for Van Cliburn who was ill?

After that San Antonio concert, 6,000 concert-goers gave the young pianist a standing ovation and one critic has since said of him, "He is the closest I have heard to the young Horowitz."

Lorin Hollander, now 20, will appear in McCarter Theatre Monday at 8:30 in a program comprising Mozart's Fantasia in C minor (K. 475), Beethoven's Sonata in E Major, Op. 109; Bartok's Bagatelle, Op. 6; Prokofiev's Toccata in D minor, Op. 11 and Mousorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition."

The concert, part of Series I, is sold out by subscription but standing room may be purchased the evening of the concert.

SEATS ON SALE

For Van Ronk Concert. Tickets are available for the performance by Dave Van Ronk, who will present a concert of folk music and country blues in Alexander Hall Saturday at 8:30.

The concert is sponsored by Arts at Princeton and the Princeton Folk Music Society. Tickets for the folk singing performance may be purchased at $2 each by writing to the Princeton Folk Music Society, P. O. Box 802, Princeton, or are on sale at the Princeton University Store and Princeton Music Center.

WEINRICH TO PLAY

In Memorial Recital. A program of organ music by members of the Bach family will be given by Carl Weinrich on Sunday at 3:30 in Princeton University Chapel. The recital is in memory of Helena Woolworth McCann, who gave the University its Chapel organ.

Mr. Weinrich will play "Wenn mein Stundlein" by Johann Michael Bach; Prelude and Fugue in E flat and "Warum betrubst du dich" by Johann Christoph Bach; "Du Friedeferst" and "Vom Himmel hoch" by Johann Bernard Bach; the Prelude in D, Adagio in D Minor, Fugue in E flat, Sonata No. 1 in D by C.P.E. Bach; Fugue in G Minor, Fugue in D Minor, Fugue in F Major by W. F. Bach and the Toccata and Fugue in E Major and "An Wasserflüssen Babylon" by Johann Sebastian Bach.

This spring, RCA will release an album of music by the Bach family recorded by Mr. Weinrich.

DON'T FORGET...

Segovia, Brubeck, Andres Segovia will play in McCarter next Thursday, January 14, at 8, performing on his classic guitar Sor's Study and Allegro, Albeniz' "Zambra Granadina" and compositions by J. S. Bach, Espla, Weiss, Frescobaldi, Turina, Torroba and Tansman.

The Dave Brubeck Jazz Quartet will make its first Princeton appearance since 1962 on Saturday, January 16, in McCarter.

STUDENTS ALL

In Chamber Recital. Undergraduate students in the music department of Princeton University will present a chamber music recital next Friday, January 15, at 8 in Room 101, Woolworth Center of Musical Studies.

Instrumentalists and singers will perform from the works of Handel, Beethoven, Schubert, Brahms, Ibert and Warlock. The public is invited to attend, and there will be no admission charge.

CALL FOR AUDITION

Opera Singers Welcome. A new opera workshop series will start Tuesday for singers who have proved their proficiency, or those who want additional training and coaching. As always, the sponsor is the Princeton Opera Association, the artistic director and audition judge, Igor Chichagov of the Baltimore Civic Opera.

MEET THE DEVONNS: Can you spot the three Princeton faces? These are the five DeVonnas, a rock 'n' roll quintet which is three-fifths Princeton High. (left to right) Louise Stephen son, Voncille White, Charen Colton, Johnnie Hill, Michael Hill. Louise, Johnnie and Michael are the home-town girls. The costumes are gold, the voices gold and cream, the future 18-karat.

Maude Curry of the Manhattan School of Music will teach the dramatic aspects of opera, Michael Minihan will be coordinator for language phraseology and Suzanne Weaver will serve as workshop chairman.

Information about auditions may be obtained from Mrs. Weaver at 924-4284 or from Mrs. F. F. Shley, 921-2148. Those interested in staging, costumes, scenery or production are also invited to participate.

THOSE SINGING DEVONNS

New Record Coming. Sleek in gold jump-suits with boots to match, the five livers who call themselves "The DeVonnas" have just cut their first very own record. The label is Columbia's Colpix, the release date still unknown, the suspense and the promise high and keen.

Who are the DeVonnas? Ask anybody in Princeton under 21. The DeVonnas have sung at Princeton High School dances and after PHS basketball games, they have sung at Miss Fine's and for University house-parties. They are, in case you haven't guessed, a rock'n' roll quintet (ballads on the side).

Three of the five are seniors at Princeton High and the other two, who live at McGuire Air Force Base, spend so much time in Princeton rehearsing that they might as well live here.

The three Princeton DeVonnas are Louise Stephenson and the twins, Michael and Johnnie Hill—quite definitely young ladies in spite of their names. They have sung together for the past three years, although it was not until January, 1963 that they got out into the big wide show-biz world and were affectionately christened "The Promising Babies of Mo-town." Babies? Well... the 16-year-old kind.

Harmony in Gold. The new record is "I Love Him" with "Let us Love" on the flip side. Behind the DeVonnas are guitar, drums and some horns—"Just what happened to be around at the studio. Nobody we know."

Here in Princeton, fans usually hear only the trio that lives here: Johnnie, Michael and Louise. They'll sing "Playboy," perhaps, or "Johnny" and critical young listeners say that their harmony is very, very good indeed.

"We make up our own harmony," said Johnnie—or was it

Michael? "We get a new song and we make up harmony as we go along and then we practice."

Rehearsals go on every night; in fact, the girls have had all-night rehearsal sessions, and they once learned five songs in three hours. The McGuire contingent comes here, or the Hills and Louise go there, in spite of cold and rain and even flat tires en route.

Outside Princeton, the girls have sung at shore resorts like Long Branch, Red Bank and Toms River, and they were featured at the November Cavalier Ball in Trenton.

The record is a result of the contacts made by the mother of Voncille White, one of the quintet. In fact, it is Mrs. White who made of the Princeton trio a Princeton McGuire quintet. She now acts as agent for the group and has them under contract. They also have a two-year contract with Colpix.

Time for Sports. When the gold jump-suits are put away after an engagement, the three Princeton girls turn to sports. "We're all crazy about sports, said Louise. Soccer, basketball, volleyball, badminton—and varsity caliber in them all.

They belong to the Color Guard, the Imperial Debs, the Leader Corps Drill Team, the Gymnastics Club and the Girls' Athletic Association. What else is there?

Michael, Johnnie and Louise have gone to school in Princeton ever since kindergarten days at Nassau Street School, junior high days at Witherspoon School and now Princeton High. The Hills live at 78 Clay, and Louise within shouting distance at 72 Clay.

Where Next? They're a quiet trio, the Princeton three, at least when they're talking about themselves. Soft-voiced and without showy pride, they are nevertheless pretty excited about that first record, and they hope, as a result of its release—and well, popularity—that they will go on the road after graduation in June and, who knows? maybe even take those jump-suits to Europe.

FILM, LECTURE PLANNED

On Handicapped Children. The Central New Jersey chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children will present a program on handicapped children on Monday, January 18, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the State Department of Education building, 225 West State Street, Trenton.

A film, "Testing of Multiple Handicapped Children," will demonstrate the ways handicapped children learn. A guest lecturer from Trenton State College will discuss the film. The meeting is open to the public and no reservations are necessary. Additional information may be obtained from Russell G. Layden, 882-2201.

Thomas A. Jones, chairman of the Central New Jersey Association for "Brain-Injured" Children and vice-president of Johnson and Johnson, will introduce Dr. Gordon.

PLENTY OF WATER

Says Elizabethtown. Robert W. Kean Jr., president of Elizabethtown Water Company, said the 34 communities which obtain water from the company "should have no worries in 1965." The forecast is "plenty of water and no problems" for the areas of Union, Middlesex, Somerset and Mercer Counties served by Elizabethtown.

Mr. Kean set the figure of $3 million for expansion investment during 1965. Middlesex County, particularly the Raritan River and the Bound Brook area, are due for major improvements and increase in reservoir capacities.

IMAGINATION

can make this gracious Colonial the show place of the area. It's situated on 7.7 acres with plenty of old trees and a circular drive. The picturesque setting in rural Griggstown with the Millstone River just across the road assures privacy and quiet country living . . . and yet Princeton is just ten minutes away. There are nine rooms on the first floor so you can be the "decision maker" as to which room will be the library, den, game room or whatever. Frankly, we hope you won't disturb the country kitchen with the walk-in pantry or the equally spacious first floor linen closet. There are three bedrooms on the second floor and a storage attic. The Colonial atmosphere is accentuated by the two narrow passageways on opposite sides of this home. Both these passageways go up and lead to unfinished rooms. This home requires work or money or a little bit of both.

Directions: From Princeton—North on Rt. 206. Turn right on River Road, about 2½ miles to our sign on the left.

To Our Advertisers:

A Christmas "Thank You Note"

On page 17 of this issue of TOWN TOPICS, many of you report in "Business in Princeton" that you enjoyed a record-breaking Christmas. In the weeks leading up to it, you bought space at a record-breaking pace in TOWN TOPICS, and we are deeply appreciative of the faith you placed in us as an advertising medium.

- The two 56-page issues of December 3 and 17 had the greatest advertising volume for this size paper we have ever published.
- The 64-page issue of December 10 broke all previous advertising sales records set by TOWN TOPICS in 1963 for all weekly newspapers in Mercer County.
- And now, with the very first issue of 1965, your space requirements have necessitated our publishing eight pages more than the corresponding issue a year ago. This stems from a display advertising increase of 14.7%

Again, our sincere thanks to all of You!

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

All rights reserved © F. W. Wadsworth & Co., Inc. New York

"ICING" CAN BE GOOD HEAT CLUE

"Grandma Moses herself couldn't have made that roof look more picturesque than the first time we saw what's now our house.

"Funny. We thought it looked just charming and cozy with that blinding second-day snow on the roof.

"Get the picture?" Asked my real estate minded father-in-law. There's a real house. Well-built. The snow's just going to have to slip off in its own good time. There's no wasted interior heat seeping up and out. This kind of insulation and performance is what I've come to expect of houses with electrical heating systems.

"If that's what's known as a meddling relative, give me more of them," comments the junior executive who's now living like a king.

"We've been married three years, this is our first house and it's great. From the way things usually go in my company I'd say we won't be staying here more than three years, five at the most. That's about the average for transients. But when the next house does become a cause for shopping around again, whether it's near here or clear across the country, you can just bet it's going to have a complete electrical heating system too. Marge and I aren't going back to the primitive business my folks have been struggling along with.

"Pops pointed out another thing, too. When Auf Wieder-sehn time comes along this little home sweet home of ours will bring in a nice sum toward the next one.

"Why? Well it seems that in addition to the 'most' in luxurious comfort, electric heating systems, equipment wise, are the most durable available. They don't deteriorate, hence there's no appreciable depreciation."

And according to an electrical association, the young man and his Marge will find an increasingly large selection of electrical living houses anywhere in the country... and anywhere in their price range, whatever it may be from the most modest to the most lavish.

QUESTION BOX

- Q. Which is the better for an electrically heated house, clapboard or brick?
- A. Doesn't matter. What really counts is what's in between like the filling in a sandwich. In other words do you have just a "scraping on" of insulation, as it

UP-DATE... ANTIQUE HEATING NOW!

This elegant relic reminds us of by-gone days. Be elegant, better your days ahead with total electric home heating.

were, or do you have something of adequate thickness. Experienced builders of electric living houses, you'll find, work hand in glove with electrical contractors to see that the quality of a house's construction partners with the quality of the electrical heating so it is utilized with maximum efficiency.

- Q. Are there any charts I can send for that will give the specifications of electrical heating unit types and sizes per square foot of room space?
- A. To our knowledge no; or at least not for the layman. Furthermore, actual installation costs for electrical equipment are considered low... and you get both the science and experience of somebody who knows what he's doing. Better to use that do-it-yourself instinct on some other household project. Electric heating when installed by a professional gives such trouble-free service that most users don't know what it means to holler for the maintenance man.
- Q. In what part of the country have the most all-electric homes been built?
- A. Almost anywhere in the United States electrically-heated houses are being built. Pretty hard in such a fast-growing picture to single out any single locale.
- Q. Does the change-over to electric heat mean one would have to be discreet in the use of other appliances like a washer not to keep blowing fuses?
- A. Quite the contrary. When an older house is converted to electric living — including electricity as the sole source of fuel — properly done heavy housepower wiring provides such a sufficiency of circuits that you won't even experience the old shrinkage of the TV picture. Furthermore, if the conversion work is done in accordance with Gold Medallion standards there'll be enough circuits to provide years ahead for things that haven't even been invented yet.
- Q. Do many people change over old houses to electric heating?
- A. Yes. In fact, nearly 30% of the houses equipped with electric heating in the U. S. in the past four years have been conversions.

CONVENIENT for the diligent commuter . . . here is a meticulously cared for home in one of our pleasant neighboring commu-

woods. Living room with fireplace, playroom, 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths.
The screened porch is large and a very substantial asset to the house.
$23,500

EXCEPTIONAL . . . One long look at this fine Colonial will be enough to convince you to stop looking — for here is the kind of house almost everyone seems to prefer to any other: a two-story residence in a Township neighborhood with lots of trees. First floor:
living room with fireplace, dining room, sun porch, kitchen. Second floor: 3 bedrooms and bath . . .
plus (in the attic) an insulated extra room. $29,900

LIKE THE COUNTRY? . . . here is a beautiful home in a nice woodsy setting which could be the ideal place for a couple determind to retire in comfort and style, or for two young people who plan to start their wedded life as close to Princeton as possible, but far enough away so that they can learn all about the joys of living in the country. Living room 14 x

tion. (sole agent) $38,500

UNUSUAL . . . this beautiful residence, built of red brick by Mat-on a wooded acre off The Great

Country Day School, and the even newer Princeton Day Schools, it is, perhaps, the only property available in this select part of Western Princeton which is comparable in quality to our finest homes.
First floor has living room wing

BRAEBURN . . . this wooded one of Princeton's favorites—especially so far as the young adults are concerned. And with 5 bed-

In Order To Serve You Better

Now, for the second year, we are providing you — our customers — with a detailed service for tax deductible drugs. This free tax record service is TIP — Tax Information Plan.

Here is how TIP works. Each time you make a purchase at The Thorne Pharmacy any part of that purchase which is deductible under Federal law is noted in a separate column on your receipt.

Receipts will be itemized on your TIP statement. You will see a gray column listing all your tax deductible purchases, and a running total of deductibility to date in the lower right hand corner. Enclosed with your TIP statement will be the individual receipts. It is vital that you keep these receipts with your other tax records. They are your legal proof that the purchases were made.

In January, 1966, you will receive a TIP final statement showing every deductible purchase you made during 1965.

Not only does TIP help at income tax time, but it is equally important should you ever have a claim under a medical insurance program.

Wont' you let us serve you better by taking advantage of our Tax Information Plan?
